MISS THOMPSON TALKS.

She is the Young Woman Who Has Sued Dr. Gilbert J. Palen.

Huntingdon, Pa., July 7.—Miss Margaret May Thompson, of this city, who has instituted legal proceedings against Dr. Gilbert J. Palen, of Philadelphia, a nephew of the late Jay Gould, for breach of promise of marriage, claiming $25,000 damages, is now at her parents home here and to-day spoke unreservedly of her case. Miss Thompson, who has just entered upon her 21st year, is a professional nurse and enjoys the highest public esteem here for her charming personality.

"In the first place," said the pretty nurse, "Dr. Palen did not attend me professionally when I was ill in Philadelphia, as he had said he did. Dr. Palen was deeply interested in my recovery, and to my father, he said that we were engaged to be married, but that he did not want his father to learn of our engagement until after his graduation.

"When I was at home here in March last, Dr. Palen wrote to me, saying that he was coming to see me; and on March 8 he did come. My parents, being aware of his coming and knowing of our marriage engagement, naturally accorded him a very hearty welcome. Up to this time he had not told me of his relationship to the Gould family, nor of his financial standing. These facts, had I known of them, would have had no influence whatever on me in inducing me to give him a favorable answer to his proposal.

"After my return home for a brief rest from my duties at the Philadelphia Lying-in charity, I received almost daily letters from Dr. Palen, each expressive of the warmest sentiments. The tenor of my letter which was written to Dr. Palen after his marriage, a brief extract of which his lawyer has made public, has been grossly misrepresented.

"After his marriage I wrote to him asking that he return my picture, and ironically congratulated him on his marriage. I intended this expression of felicity to be accepted in the light of sarcasm pure and simple, and in no sense as indicative of my heart's earnest desire. Dr. Palen has basely deceived me."

Miss Thompson said that the understanding between the doctor and herself was that immediately after he had completed his studies abroad, they were to be married. Miss Thompson left to-night for Philadelphia.

Convicted of Manslaughter.

Dublin, July 5.—Michael Cleary, living nyer the town of Clonmel, was convicted to-day of manslaughter in having burned his wife, Bridget Cleary, to death in March. Cleary believed his wife was bewitched, and upon the advice of Dennis Ganey, the family doctor, and in the presence of her father and a number of other relatives, held her over a fire and afterwards stripped her and poured parafine over the body and set fire to it. The woman was burned to death without the slighest effort on the part of the spectators to extinguish the flames which were consuming her. Cleary claimed that it was not his wife, but a witch that was burned.

Cleary was sentenced to twenty years imprisonment. His accomplices were also convicted. Patrick Kennedy was condemned to five and John Dunne to three years imprisonment; William and James Kennedy to eighteen months each, and Patrick Bolen and Michael Kennedy to six months each.

Wire Strike Still Grows.

Cleveland, July 6.—The strike of the wireworkers is assuming still more formidable portions. Eighty galvanizers at the American Wire Works struck to-day, making 1,200 men on strike and 1,500 more thrown out of employment thereby.

The strikers claim that the 600 wire draws of the Cleveland Rolling Mill Company will join them Monday, but the offices of the company declare that they do not know of any such intention. It is claimed also that the yardmen, builders and laborers in the wire mill will enter the strike.

Still There's a Boy Wanted.

Buzzards Bay, July 7.—At Gray Gables the quiet and picturesque summer home of President Cleveland, at 4.30 o'clock this afternoon, a little girl was born unto Mrs. Cleveland.

Dr. Joseph D. Bryant, the attending physician, to-night informed a representative of the United Press that both mother and child were doing well.

Pawnee Bill's Combined Shows, Historical Wild West and Grand Mexican Hippodrome, is, without any exceptions, the best we have seen for many years. It is a pleasing and refined entertainment. At the afternoon performance, their vast canvas enclosed park was packed, and in the evening hundreds were unable to obtain admission.—Harrisburg (Pa.) News.

LIVELY WEDDING DAY.

Groom Chased by a Disappointed Suitor of the Bride.

Fort Scott, Kan., July 6.—Dr. Hunter, of Chicago, drove 16 miles through the mud here to-day to prevent the marriage of A. J. Bunce, of Topeka, and Miss Ida Guernhart, of Omaha, and created a sensation, which resulted in his arrest. The young man and woman were leading members of a traveling company, and they came here to get married.

The doctor who, it appears, loves the pretty young woman, arrived at the Huntingdon Hotel with his silk hat, broadcloth clothes and white shirt all bespattered with mud just as the ceremony was to be performed. He entered the room where the officiating judge was waiting for a witness, drew a pistol and attempted to shoot Bunce. The prospective groom was finally compelled to flee for his life.

The screams of the female patrons of the hotel attracted 500 people who, seeing Bunce running hatless, supposed him to be the offender, and pursued him. He was captured three blocks away hiding in the grain room of a grocery store. After proper explanations he returned to the hotel, escorted by the City Marshal, and the ceremony was performed. The doctor was then arrested.

May Fight a Duel.

New York, July 6.—Solon J. Vlasto, a wealthy Greek merchant of this city, and proprietor of the Greek newspaper Atlantis, has been holding an animated discussion in his newspaper with A. Romanos, a member of the House of Deputies of Greece, and formerly Greek Consul at London. The two men have been saying all sorts of hard things about each other and now Vlasto's friends are alarmed because they think a duel is imminent.

In a recent number of Atlantis Mr. Vlasto came out with a letter in which he openly accused Mr. Romanos of having obtained his seat in the House of Deputies by fraud. Vlasto declared further that he had taken measures to punish Romanos through the courts for attacks made on his character. He wound up the letter by intimating that he was willing to give Mr. Romanos any satisfaction the latter wants, and expressed his willingness to cross the ocean and meet his enemy either in Belgium or France.

Mr. Vlasto said that while he had not challenged Mr. Romanos to a duel he had agreed to give him any satisfaction he wanted, and would not be surprised at any time to get a challenge from the other side.

Bloomers Did It.

New York, July 6.—It was the bloomers that did it. If that comfortable, healthful article of clothing had never been invented it is likely the Women's Imperial Bicycle Club, of Brooklyn, would have been peacefully gliding along on its wheels to-day. But it isn't, and all because of the bloomers. Some of the members wouldn't, and those who wouldn't said harsh, unkind things of those who would, even going so far as to say that they would not notice those who would on the road. This, of course, was not very new womanish, and there is no telling where the affair would have ended if the only quiet, business-like woman in the club had not proposed a disbandment until fall, when the club could be reorganized or not as they wished.

The members of the disbanded club are all pretty much disgusted, and a number of them say they will join a new club in the fall.

Shot Down the Director.

Nanticoke, July 6.—Fred T. Bittenberger was shot to-day at noon in front of the First National Bank by Abraham S. Eckerd. Bittenberger is a School Director, a real estate owner and a manufacturer of machine drills and is one of Nanticoke's most prominent citizens.

Bittenberger was riding in his open wagon with his father along Main street when Eckerd crossed in front of the team, stood on the edge of the sidewalk and fired three shots at Bittenberger with a revolver. Bittenberger fell dead.

Eckerd is janitor of the State Street School building and it is said had words with Director Bittenberger over some work he was doing. Eckerd is now in the jail and there is strong talk of lynching.

Dynamite in Oklahoma.

Perry, O. T., July 6.—Advices from Shawnee to-day are that a number of bridges on the Choctaw Railroad were partially blown up by dynamite a few days ago. The rivalry between the towns of Shawnee and Tecumseh has been very great for several months over the building of the Choctaw Railroad.

An attempt was made to burn the bridge across the Canadian River, 87 miles from Shawnee, and dynamite was put on several trestles near Shawnee. The end of the bridge was blown out.

A Serious Trolley Car Accident.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 8,—Nine men were badly injured by the derailing of a trolley car at North Buffalo this morning. A gang of about seventy-five Italians and Poles boarded the car to go to Towanda, where they were engaged in grading the new electric road between this city and Niagara Falls. Just after the car left the station the motorman noticed that something was wrong with the brakes. The car was then on a steep grade and its speed increased until it reached a frightful velocity.

The car went bounding he rails and the passengers grew terribly excited and it was with difficulty they were restrained from jumping off. For three-quarters of a mile the car went rushing along until it struck a curve and jumped the track, tumbling over and over into the ditch and being reduced to kindling wood. Those of the passengers who escaped injury went to the assistance of those beneath the car and soon had them removed. Nine were found to be quite badly injured, but only two—Victor Marcel, a Pole, and Pasquelo Sualle, an Italian—were seriously hurt.

The Sharon Strike Ended.

Sharon, Pa., July 8.—The strike among the 1,000 employes of the Sharon iron works came to an end this afternoon by the management making the concession asked for by the men. This was a raise of ten cents to the day hands. The advance will go into effect August 1st, or before providing other industries in the two valleys make a similar advance.

The wages of the iron workers are governed by seven mills in the vicinity and it, as expected, these all grant an advance, several thousand men will be benefitted.

The negroes who were imported to take the places of the strikers were shipped back south to-night and the deputy sheriff who have been on guard at the works in anticipation of trouble were withdrawn. The strikers are jubilating to-night over their victory.

A Bad River Disaster.

Memphis, July 6.—It now appears that six lives were lost by the sinking of the Memphis and Ashport packet, Lady Lee, which occurred last night at the head of Island Forty, 18 miles above this city.

The missing are: Harry Robinson, the boat's baker, and Peter Watson, the barber, both of Memphis, together with a negro roustabout named Andy, also of Memphis, and three colored deck passengers, Mary Winder and Mamie Stewart, of Dean's Island, and a preacher, name unknown, who belonged to Osceola, Ark.

Salvation Army Arrested.

Portsmouth, July 6. Captain Robbins and several of the leaders of the Salvation Army were arrested late last night for disturbing the peace, and the arrest came near causing a riot. The Salvation Army had been told to discontinue their street meetings.

When arraigned this morning all pleaded not guilty. The trial was set for Monday. Two were released on bonds, and the rest are in jail. The Army has declared its intention of going ahead with its meetings as heretofore.

Whipped by Whitecaps.

Norfolk, N. Y., July 6.—J. Cason came here on a visit from Bay, Tyrell county some time ago, and became enamored of Edith Wing. A few days since they were married. But the people of Bay, learning something unpleasant things about the character of Cason's wife, tried to prevent him from taking her to his home. He outwitted them.

The next night a band of Whitecaps visited him and inflicted 30 lashes each upon the backs of the newly married people.

Had Sixteen Teeth Extracted.

Reading, Pa., July 8.—The sudden death of Hannah Simons, who had sixteen teeth extracted on Sunday by Dr. Johnson, it is understood was due entirely to natural causes. The woman called on the doctor on Sunday and said she wanted her teeth taken out. The doctor examined them and told her that she should better only have half of them removed. Mrs. Simons, however, insisted that all be extracted. Shortly after their removal she was seized with a severe hemorrhage of the nose and the physicians were unable to check it. The coroner will probably hold an inquest tomorrow.

Judge Mayer's Decision.

A short time ago Judge Mayer heard argument at Williamsport on a motion to quash the proceedings that had been begun against certain Lycoming county officials. On Saturday the judge handed down an opinion deciding against the motion. This decision is a victory for those who favor the investigation of these officials, and the investigation will now proceed.

MORTON INTERVIEWED.

The Silver Craze and the New Clerk of the Weather.

New York, July 8.—Secretary of Agriculture J. Sterling Morton is a guest at the hotel Imperial. In conversation with a reporter he expressed himself as very hopeful that the wave of free silver agitation had reached its culmination and that every day hereafter would distinctly mark its receding force.

"I am inclined," he said, "to attribute its waning strength to the able exposition of the fallacy of free silver by Secretary Carlisle."

"Do you think that the danger of disruption in the democratic south has passed?" was asked.

"Yes, the south and elsewhere. The party now presents a solid front for sound money. It is the republican party that must now struggle against it. The silver states will be served or they will leave the party. In any event there is no danger now that the country will suffer the infliction of fiat money or any other debasing of the life blood of commerce."

"You have given the weather bureau a new superintendent," the reporter remarked.

"Yes, and I think the change will be for the improvement of the service. The examination was competitive and Willis Moore won by making far and away the best record of weather forecasting."

"Moore has a method of his own by which he forecasts, and his prophesies have shown a wonderful percentage of fulfillment. He has hitherto kept his method a secret, but I asked him when he was appointed to the superintendency to give his secret to the bureau, and he said that he would. By the way, I have seen it charged that he was selected through political pressure. I asked him after he had received his commission what his political affiliations were and he told me that he had always voted the republican ticket."

Fatal Cave-In of a Sewer.

Scranton, Pa., July 8.—At 3.30 this afternoon a large force of men was engaged in digging a sewer ditch in Brown's alley, the ditch caved in, burying two Italian workmen. A big force of men rushed to their rescue and one of them was finally dragged out, dangerously injured but alive. The work of rescuing the other man was resumed and just as he was uncovered a water pipe burst, causing the rescuers to flee and again burying the Italian. When he was reached the second time he was found to be dead. He was named Joe Laconabut and was such a stalwart fellow that he was always called "Big Frank." The ditch that gave way was regarded as dangerous and the men were about to repair it when the cave-in occurred.

The Outlaws Convicted.

Kingwood, W. Va., July 8.—The trial of the Pennsylvania outlaws was concluded this morning by the jury's verdict of guilty. The outlaws, Bud Smiley, Hank Harvey and Archibald Patterson, were indicted for feloniously shooting upon one count and for unlawfully shooting on the second count. The jury found them guilty of unlawful shooting, the penalty for which is imprisonment from one to five years in the penitentiary. These outlaws shot and dangerously wounded Sheriff Shaw, of this county, who, with a posse, was attempting their arrest last April for horse stealing. The prisoners live in Fayette county, Pa. Their sentence has not been passed.

Carried a Naked Lamb,

Pottsville, Pa., July 8.—P. Bakey, 38 years old, married of Minersville, early this morning entered the Lyttle colliery pumping slope at Primrose, in pursuance of his duties as pump foreman, and with a naked lamp ignited a large body of gas, which exploded, killing him instantly. The fan had been stopped temporarily to change the air current and this caused the accumulation of a large body of gas. Bakey was ignorant of its presence. The fan on the surface was demolished and the slope in the vicinity of the explosion was damaged. Loss to the colliery is estimated to be over $1,000. The concussion was terrific.

The combined shows of Pawnee Bill, which exhibited here yesterday, is first-class in every respect; as a life-like portrayal of savage modes, it has no equal, requiring 60 genuine Indians, brave cowboys, noted scouts, trappers, and Pawnee Bill's humanely educated mustangs. The performances of the trained animals were excellent, and equal to any ever exhibited in this city. May Lillie's shooting is wonderful, and Petite Blanch Pullman, and the riding and driving of 35 wild mustangs are all grand features. The wild buffaloes and long horned steers, the grand Mexican Hippodrome races, by senors and and senoritas, are most wonderful and exciting. Taking it all in all it is one of the best shows that ever visited our city.—Oil City Derrick.

WHERE DEVASTATION REIGNS.

The Latest News From Winona and the Country Adjacent.

Winona, Mo., July 8.—Now that the fatal deluge is subsiding in this ill-fated town and its vicinity, the horror of the disaster and the enormous destruction of property become apparent. The flood has left only a scene of desolation and a menace to the health of the living from the presence of hundreds of dead horses, cattle, hogs and other stock. For miles below the town are strewn the carcasses, mingled with wagons, household furniture, organs and other property, which was swept away with the dwellings by the raging torrent of water.

The loss of human life is placed at a dozen to a certainty, all but one of the victims being known. The bodies have been recovered with one exception. As usual in cases of calamity, men and women have come to seize and appropriate as their own all the moyable property which they can lay their hands on, This region is so mountainous that wagons can hardly make connections and there is a big gap in the railroad bed caused by the flood.

The Fort Scott railroad officials came to Winona on a special train this evening to do what they could for the flood stricken people. Trains were run from each end of the Current river branch as far as the gap, thus establishing railroad communication for the first time. During the flood a man was lowered from the bluff by a rope and when a human form was whirled past he jumped into the water and carried the body ashore, assisted by men on the bluff. In this way he rescued three from death, and recovered two bodies.

Hardly a building, except those in the suburbs and on high ground, escaped being flooded. Winona, according to the last census, had 602 population. Three years ago Winona was almost wiped out by fire.

Another storm struck this territory yesterday, and about 9 o'clock in the evening a severe earthquake shock was felt in Springfield and its vicinity. Houses shook and windows rattled, but there was no serious damage reported.

The Columbia House.

The Columbia House, No. 111-113 North Broad street, Philadelphia, kept by the prince of landlords, John Carlin, Esq., is the place where all Centre county people when visiting that city either on business or pleasure, can find a comfortable and pleasant home. It is situated on Broad street and very near the Broad street station of the Pennsylvania railroad. It is also near all important points that all wish to visit. Wanamakers great store is almost in sight of the house, cars and coaches are near at hand to take the visitors, for five cents, to any point in the city one way wish to visit and run so close together that you do not have to wait over five minutes at any time. Mr. Carlin is one of the most generous and accomodating of men and makes his guests feel perfectly at home. The table is well furnished with the latest the market affords; the rooms are large and well furnished and in fact everything is comfortable and homelike. The terms for board are very reasonable, being only two dollars per day. We advise our Centre county friends to patronize the Columbia house when in the Quaker City.

The Count Finished.

The counting of silver dollars in the United States Mint, begun on June 4, was finished Friday, the number counted having been 49,999,267. The greatest number counted on any one day was 2,725,000 on June 17.

The counting of the gold and silver bars was begun to-day and it is expected that the work will be finished in about ten days. The government expert accountants began Friday afternoon making preparations for the annual settlement, and will finish their work this afternoon.

Wilfull Murder Charged.

Wilkesbarre, July 8.—An inquest was held today at Nanticoke over the remains of Fred T. Bittenbender, who was shot and killed by Abram Eckert on Saturday. The jury found that "Death was caused by a pistol shot wound at the hands of Abram Eckert and that it was a wilful murder." Bittenbender will be buried to-morrow, and every mine, factory and business place and hotel will be closed during the services.

WEEKLY FINANCIAL REVIEW

From our Regular Correspondent.

NEW YORK, July 6, 1895.

The Stock Market has entered upon a distinctly new stage; new not so far as respects the main underlying conditions, in which there is no change,—but in respect to the current speculative attitude and tactics of operators. The triumphant "bull" campaign of the last three months has brought about a new situation. Prices has risen to a pitch that surprises even the most sanguine, and "bull" operators have made extraordinary profits. Among conservative speculators, there is a feeling that prices are now, as a rule, up to what the immediate facts of the situation warrant. It is conceded that the general drift of the conditions that control values suggests the expectation of a further advance when the harvest has been gathered and its beneficial after-effects upon trade begin to appear. But between now and then there is an interval of some weeks, during which possibly no influential developments may be forthcoming. As a matter of speculative tactics, it appears desirable, to professional speculators, that this interval might well be used for the purpose of realizing profits on the strong rallies and there by laying the basis for repurchases at a later stage, with a view to a new upward movement in the Fall. Also, the absence of operators on their Summer recreations is encouraging to this sort of attitude.

It is not to be supposed that the "bears" will allow this opportunity to pass unimproved. A long experience of conditions adverse to their sides has made them impatient for an opportunity for attack; and it is not likely they will permit the present partial lull in "bull" activity to go unappropriated for their benefit. We do not undertake to say how far they will venture in making reprisals on the reposing "bulls," nor how far the "bulls" are likely to retaliate. Our judgment is that the pessimists are likely to prove cautious, and that the optimists will not be found willing to part with any considerable amount of stock at much lower prices. Nevertheless, the "bears" may be expected to do their best, for the early future, to test the market at what they conceive to be its weak points, as much perhaps from a mere spirit of fight as from any strong hope of making a distinct impression on prices. The late fierce attack on the industrials and the attemps to stiffen the rates of foreign exchange are a part of these tactics; the failure of the break in the industrials to break the railroad list is a sample however of the sort of result the "bears" may expect from all such movements.

But while immediate conditions seem to favor a temporary lull in the larger speculative operations, it is not impossible that events near at hand may revive the buying movement sooner than is now anticipated. The reconstruction proceedings in the bankrupt railroads are now making rapid progress, and announcements, may be forthcoming at any moment which would create a new excitement and bring into the market a mass of stocks that have been tied up pending these readjustments. Moreover, the corn crop has possibilities of proving a very important element in the value of the stocks of roads serving the great corn belt. Should that crop maintain its present promise to the end of the season, it will prove a very valuable help towards the more complete revival of business throughout the country. To sum up the matter, while the position of affairs at the moment seems to tend towards a temporary lull in speculation and possibly to modern fluctuations in prices, yet this position may quite possibly change for a revival of "bull" activity.

London is no longer a leading factor. That market perceives that New York is now capable of taking care of itself and of the foreign markets at the same time. It sees that a great power commands the confidence of London; and Europe may therefore be expected to follow the drift of our home market rather than antagonize it so long as it tends to increase profits upon foreigh holdings.

HENRY CLEWS.

To THE minds of some people, any one advancing even the thought of making a woman's dress for $2.10, would be considered insane. And yet it is entirely feasible. Not alone one but two dresses of very acceptable material for summer wear at home—and both nicely made—is among the possibilities. How this can be accomplished is very nicely told in an article entitled "Two Dresses" by Ada Honorah Campbell' which appears in Home and Country, New York, for July. Besides this some hints are given by the author which will be interesting to the good house-wife, she on whom most depends the making of an attractive home. They are based on a commonsense view of things not always apparent, not even among the fair sex.

WHO SENT THE DISPATCH

That Informed Governor Curtin of Lee's Concentration at Gettysburg.

Thirty-two years ago, July 1 our country was embroiled in one of the worst struggles of ancient or modern times. The great rebellion had been going on during two whole years and there was no sign of its being put down. In fact, at that time, it looked about the darkest for the army of the North. Lee's army of Virginia had just won a series of victories the last being on the field of Chancellorsville, and, flushed with victory, invaded Pennsylvania and was encamped at Chambersburg. On the last day of June he began to concentrate at Gettysburg. All communication being cut with Washington and Harrisburg there was no way of the officials in these places finding out Lee's movements. But on the night of June 30th, about midnight, Governor Curtin got a dispatch dated Port Royal, and unsigned, which told the news of Lee's march on Gettysburg. This was the first information received from any source and it was acted on and proved to have been accurate and invaluable.

It was not until twenty years had passed that Governor Curtin learned the identity of the man who sent the telegram, and then it proved to be one S. W. Pomeroy, a son of Judge Pomeroy, of Roxbury, Franklin county, and who is now none other than the Rev. Pomeroy, of Mill Hall, and who preached such an able sermon in the Bellefonte Presbyterian church a few Sundays ago. To get to Port Royal, he was obliged to steal through the enemies lines, walk 17 miles and ride 45, and he carried the dispatch sewed in the buckle strap of his trousers.

Rev. Pomeroy seldom speaks of this episode in his life, but it is due his children that some memento from the State and the United States should be given in acknowledgement of the inestimable service.

Centre Hall's New Church.

Robert Cole & Co., architects, are busy at work completing the plans for the new Reformed church which will be erected at Centre Hall in the near future.

The new building will be what is called veneer work, the outside being either brick or stone as may be determined.

The main audience room which is to seat 250, is 40x50, with a Sunday school annex of 26x43, and infant room 26x17. These rooms can all be converted into one large room when neccessity requires it, giving great seating capacity.

Ground will be broken in a short time, and the work pushed as rapidly as possible. The design accepted is one that, when materialized, will be an honor to the congregation and town. Rev. Eisenberg, the pastor, has been almost indefatigable in his efforts to secure the new building. The new site is well located and a handsome work of art is likely to be the result.

Isenberg—Hazel.

The Bellwood correspondent of the Altoona Tribune says:

Walter I. Isenberg, of the firm of Isenberg & Moffit, tonsorial artists, took a trip to Centre county last week with the ostensible purpose of an outing, but the primary object of which was to enshrine himself on love's altar and become a martyr to the cause of woman's rights. On June 28 he was married to the woman of his choice Miss Alice Hazel, of Madisonburg, Centre county, at the Lutheran parsonage in Rebersburg by Rev. —— Mumma. He is busily engaged just now in featheting the nest for the reception of the bird which is little more than a week distant.

Conductor Parker Injured.

On Tuesday conductor Ross Parker, o the Bellefonte Central railroad undertook to climb to the top of a box car while th train was in motion. He had just placed his hand on top the car when a Janney coupling broke the pin flying up in the air and descending struck Mr. Parker's hand, severing the little finger at the first joint and badly injuring the next finger. Had the pin descended a little sooner it would have struck him on the head with force sufficient to have killed him.

Eel Pots May be Used.

Governor Hastings has signed the bill which is of special interest to our fishermen. It makes it lawful now to use in the waters of our commonwealth other than trout streams, eel pots made of wicker work or netting, the said eel pots to be of a length not exceeding five feet, with an entrance to the same not exceeding two and one-half inches.

Working on the New Line.

Over 1,000 men are now at work on the new railroad in Indiana county, between Mahaffey and Rankin's summit. Branch lines to connect with coal mines are being surveyed, and mines will be open on Cush creek and ready for work as soon as the road is completed.

Killed By Lightning.

At Pine Bottom, a small settlement on Pine creek not far from Waterville, a little girl aged 8 years, daughter of Henry Button, was killed Wednesday night by a stroke of lightning. The little girl was lying in bed with her twin sister before an open window. Her sister was unharmed.

Married.

At the Lutheran parsonage, corner of High and Penn streets, Bellefonte, by Rev. Ed. Everett Hoshour, June 27th, 1895, Willis Ripka and Miss Ida Bower, both of Altoona, Pa.

R. Y. P. U. AT BALTIMORE, MD.

One Fare for the Round Trip via Pennsylvania Railroad.

The Fifth International Convention of the Baptist Young People's Union of America will be held at Baltimore, Md., July 18 to 21, and for that occasion the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will sell, July 16 and 17. excursion tickets to Baltimore at a single fare for the round trip, good to return until August 5 inclusive..

Good News for Firemen.

Last Friday Governor Hastings signed the Firemen's Pension and Relief bill, and it is now a law. The bill diverts one-half of two per cent. tax upon foreign fire insurance companies to city and borough treasuries, and councils are authorized to appropriate this by ordinance to the relief of disabled firemen, and relatives of firemen killed in discharge of their duty.

Mr. Greenberg, of Huntingdon, who is ex-president of the State Firemen's association, and other firemen have been laboring incessantly for the past sixteen years in having this law passed by the legislature. The bill was passed by two legislatures, but vetoed first by Governor James A. Beaver and next by Governor Pattison. The firemen owe a debt of gratitude to Governor Hastings for signing the, and now the brave firemen have the consolation that if they are disabled there is a provision made for their relief, and in case of death their families will be proyided for.

He Was a Tyrone Boy.

A cute Tyrone urchin sleeps with his mother during the temporary absence of his father. He wanted to help some of his chums celebrate the Fourth very early in the morning, and to avoid over sleeping himself tied one end of a long string to the big toe of his left foot and dropped the other end out of a window at the bedside. About one o'clock, as per previous arrangements, some of his young associates came along and pulled the string, giving Tom the sign to get up, which was promptly obeyed, by dexterously and noiselessly crawling out from behind his mother and groping his way down stairs, and out a window to avoid leaving the door open behind him. The boys had big fun, and being greatly engrossed in the sport were a little later than they intended getting home. When Tom arrived at the opening through which he had made his exit, he found that it had been locked, and to gain an entrance had to give himself away. The remainder of the story is not known outside that domicile.

Swarm of Bees Settled on Her.

Mrs. Sarah Garman, the only female stagecoach driver in Lancaster county, whose route lies between Talmage and Glenola, had a terrible experience a few days ago with bees. A swarm settled first upon horses and then upon her. The maddened animals plunged along for miles, free to go where they willed, for their driver was almost driven insane by the stings of the bees, which covered her head, face and hands. She finally succeeded in freeing herself of the bulk of her tormentors and then drove to Earlville, where she was relieved of a goodly number of bees that still clung to her, and was given medical attention. Both the woman and the horses were in a bad plight.

Mrs. Williams Injured.

While putting off fireworks on the night of the 4th, Mrs. S. H. Williams, at the University Inn, State College, had her hand badly lacerated by the premature explosion of a large canon cracker. According to her version she lit the cracker but the fuse was so short she had no time o throw it until the explosion occurred. The flesh was all torn from the front part of the thumb and also from the inside of her forefinger, but no bones were broken. The injury is quite painful and the hand will not likely ever become as perfect as before the accident.

Look Out For It.

The secret service officials have discovered a new counterfeit $10 silver certificate, series 1891, check letter "A," W. S. Rosecrans, register, E. H. Neboker, treasurer; portrait of Hendricks; small scalloped carmine seal. The note, which is poor both in color and workmanship, is apparently printed from a wood cut plate, and is much smaller every way than the genuine. The word "register" is spelled regist. The color of the treasury number is faded blue, almost green, and the numbers are too heavy.

Working the Ore Mines.

McCoy & Linn, charcoal iron manufacturers, of near Bellefonte, are now operating the Lamborn ore banks, located in the Buffalo Run Valley. It is said that the ore is of a superior quality and in a very short time a large number of men will be employed in digging it from the bowels of mother earth. The iron manufactured by this firm is second to none in the state and the demand for it is increasing.

A New Church Dedicated.

On Sunday the new $37,000 M. E. church at Huntingdon was dedicated with very impressive services. Bishop Fowler preached the didicatory sermon and Dr. George E. Reed had charge of the finances. About six thousand dollars were contributed and pledged which leaves a balance of only four thousand dollars to clear the church of debt.

Marriages in June.

More people have been married in the United States and Europe during the month of June, 1895, than in any other June since the world began to roll around its orbit. And while it is true there are more divorces than there ought to be, and more unhappy homes, it is also true husbands and faithful wives, the heads of delighted homes.

These happy homes are the hope of the nation. Out of them will come our future rulers if this republic is to continue in the future to fulfill the promise of its beginning and the purpose of divine Providence. It ought to be the aspiration of every one of the new householders who start out together this month of June to be just as kind and loving to each other all their lives as they were during the days of their courtship. Honest effort in that way will go a great way toward promoting life-long happiness.

The wife cannot always manage to keep herself looking as neat and fresh—provided she has her own work to do—as she did in the days when her husband was simply the lover. But she need never be slaternly. The husband, unless he have an independent fortune, will be obliged to wear ordinary apparel during the week But both can cultivate a gentle spirit, and the old time deference should be continued. One of the most despicable of creatures is the man who pours out fervent protestations of devotion before marriage, but whose ardor cools soon after the wedding, and who becomes first indifferent and then positively brutal.

A Large Lumber Deal.

Patton Courier: A large lumber negotiation was consummated in Patton this week which means an awakening of business here for at least three years. The large timber tract known as the John M. Jordon estate situated about one and one-half miles east of Patton, consisting of about 10,000,000 feet of hemlock and hard wood, was sold by A. G. Cramer, Esq., of Clearfield, administratior, to S. A. Hunter and I. F. Baughman, two very prominent and prosperous lumbermen of Brookville, Jefferson county. These two gentlemen wil proceed at once to erect a large stationary saw mill on the grounds and as soon as completed will commence to manufacture lumber.

Bought the Flint.

Ex-Sergeant-at-Arms George G. Hutchinson, of Warriorsmark, makes frequent trips to Bellefonte these days. He has just purchased of the Bellefonte Furnace company, the Valentine Iron company and McCoy & Linn's the flint right of all their ore mines and he is at work shipping the same to western [illegible] where it is used for flux. Mr. Hutchinson is quite a politician and a power in his county where, he says, politics is pretty much mixed at the present time on the Quay and anti Quay fight. George is an applicant for the position of Assistant Secretary of Agriculture and is himself taking little part in politics now.

Female School Teachers and Marriage.

The school board of West Chester has been induced to take a step, doubtless as the result of annoying experience, which will not find much favor with the female school teachers of that borough. It has re-adopted a resolution requiring these to sign an agreement not to get married during the year which their appointment covers. The board does not desire to go on record as believing matrimony to be a bad thing for the average schoolmarm any more than for any other class of women, but they contend that such a rule has been absolutely necessary to ayert undesirable breaks in the teaching force.

Died in Milesburg.

On last Monday Milesburg lost another of its residents in the person of Mrs. Christina, wife of J. G. McKinley, who died that morning after a lingering illness with asthma. She was aged about 56 years and leaves a husband and six children to mourn their loss. Mrs. McKinley was a member of the Baptist church, was a lady highly respected by all who knew her and has always lived a consistent Christian life.

She was buried on Wednesday, services being held in the Advent church by the Rev. George E. Zehner, of Bellefonte, and interment being made in the cemetery adjoining the church.

The Fourth in Bellefonte.

The Fourth of July in Bellefonte was an unusually quiet one. The whole town was as if it were asleep, or dead. Many of our citizens went to Williamsport, and those who didn't go there either went to State College or Hecla Park. Both of these places had big crowds and big times; and, according to all reports, at Hecla Park there was an unusually lively time, there being a little more rowdyism than there should have been for the good of the day. But the crowd was large and the Undines realized fairly well from the financial standpoint.

Letters to Harry Gardner.

The Altoona Gazette is our authority for stating that letters are being mailed twice a week from that city to Harry Gardner, the defaulting cashier of the Second National bank. The letters are brought in from Hollidaysburg by a colored man who deposits them in the mail box at the depot. It has been noted that the bearer of these letters always brings them to Altoona in the night.

A Horrible Accident.

On Wednesday, while returning from the funeral of Mrs. McKinley at the Advent cemetery, the horse driven by Mr. William Bloom, of Milesburg, ran away. There were in the buggy, in addition to Mr. Bloom, his wife and two-year-old child. Mrs. Bloom and the child were thrown out, the woman aligbting on the back of her head on a stone, sustaining a crushed skull. Mr. Bloom was thrown forward by the horse and one of the shafts penetrated his side, tearing an ugly gash. Miraculous, as it may seem, the child was not injured in the least.

The unconscious man and woman were taken to Milesburg and Dr. Church summoned at once who rendered all the assistance possible. The two were unconscious for a long time but finally began to recover and, although their condition now is an extremely dangerous and critical one, the physician states that there is chance for recovery.

NEW DISCOVERY.

Among the many discoveries of the present age, none rank higher than the new metal silvereen, which owing to its great durability and cheapness is bound to take be place of silver in the manufacture of fine tableware.

Silvereen is a beautiful white metal, will not tarnish or rust, and all goods made from it are warranted.

We want every one to have a chance to compare silvereen with silver, so for the next sixty days we are going to give away one half dozen Crown Silver Tea Spoons Free, to every person who will send for one of our Terry's Silvereen sets, containing six Tea Spoons, one Sugar Shell, one Butter Knife. If at any time the Silvereen goods do not prove satisfactory, return them and your money will be refunded. Remember we give you the Silver Spoons.

Much is said these days about the many accomplishments of the new woman; yet, somehow, the writers do not dwell at length on their knowledge of sewing and cooking.

After all has been said against the barbed wire fence it must be admitted that it has a great many points in its favor.

MANY WOMEN SUFFER

FROM LACK OF INFORMATION.

Doctors Are Too Reserved. A Woman Should Be Dealt With Openly.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

Women are often allowed by their physicians to suffer much from lack of information and anxiety.

Many medical men are vain, and it is a struggle for them to acknowledge that they do not understand acase. Women do not investigate; they have faith in their doctor, and often wreck their lives through this unfortunate confidence.

In the treatment of female diseases men work from theory; and it is not to be expected that they can treat as intelligently those complaints from which they have never suffered, as a woman can who has made the organism and diseases of her sex a life study.

Women afflicted with female diseases are wise in communicating promptly with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Their distressed condition is due to womb trouble, and their symptoms tell the story.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the one remedy that removes the cause, and restores health, courage, and happiness. The druggists sell more of it than all other female medicines. Why?

The following short letter speaks for itself. Mrs. Parker is a very young wife; only twenty-one years old. She was suffering untold misery when she wrote to Mrs. Pinkham for advice. See the result.

Can evidence be stronger than this?

"I deem it my duty to announce the fact to all my fellow-sufferers of female complaints that your Vegetable Compound has entirely cured me of all the pains and suffering I was enduring when I wrote you last May. I followed your advice to the letter, and the result is wonderful." — MRS. CHAS. PARKER, Little Falls, Minn. Any druggist has it.

Editor's Note.

The June number of THE Citizen, published by the University Extension Society of Philadelphia, contains an interesting discussion of the Income Tax Law, by Dr. Edward J. James, of the University of Pennsylvania, a resume of the recent industrial applications of electricity, by Professor William J. Hopkins, of the Drexel Institute, and a scholarly explanation of the nature and ideals of University Extension Teaching, by Professor William Cranston Lawton.

The editorials of this number are especially concerned with the discussion of various phases of education, and its book department, as usual, contains carefully considered signed reviews of some of the most important recent books in Civics and Economics.

MRS. BURTON HARRISON describes "American Rural Festivals" in the July Century. These include such feates as "Wash-Day" on the Jersey coast, the Ice Glen parade at Stockbridge, and the Harvest Home at Onteora. It makes quite an imposing list, and Mrs. Harrison thinks that it serves as a complete vindication against the charge, so often made, that Americans are an artificial and city-loving people.

WITH THE BOROUGH FATHERS

Many Guests, Much Business, Many and Big Bills, Meat Ordinance Passed and Gen, Beaver Resigns His Chair.

Council convened on Monday evening with members Miller, Gerberich, Williams, Hillibish, Keller, Brockerhoff, Brachbill and Bush present, as well as a long list of prominent citizens, all residents of Linn street. Clerk Isaac Mitchell read the minutes of the previous meeting, which were approved as read.

L. T. Munson was present and asked if it was possible to do something with the underground sewer at his residence, as on the occasion of most any kind of a rain, the sewer overflows and floods the basement of his residence.

Judge Love, C. F. Montgomery, George W. Jackson, Hammon Sechler, John Ardell and George L. Potter appeared to protest against the moving of the arc light from the M. E. parsonage on Linn street to the square of Linn and Ridge streets. On this question there was quite a war of words before the matter was left in the hands of the council. A petition was first read, which had been signed by all the residents in that locality, praying that the light be left where it now is, and this was supplemented with speeches by Judge Love, H. Sechler and Mr. Potter. They one and all claimed that where the light now is, is the proper place for it, as there are more residents on that part of the street and the shade trees are more numerous; and it was necessary to have the light there in order to dispense with the very "undesirable lover's retreat," which was such a nuisance on that thoroughfare before the light was put up. Some of the speakers even charged that the first petition was gotten up, circulated and presented to council by stealth, and this charge drew forth a little war of words. Rev. J. A. Woodcock was present with another petition in which the removal of the light from the one point to the other was eliminated and simply a request for a light at Linn and Ridge streets was made.

A letter from Gen. Beaver was then read in which that gentleman tendered his resignation as a member of the town council of Bellefonte, as he believed the two positions of councilman and Superior Judge to be incompatible. He expressed regrets at being called upon to sever his connection with the borough law-makers, as he had spent many a pleasant hour in their society.

A communication was read from Scott Harris in which he agreed to furnish the borough with coal for the waterworks at the price of $1.61 per ton.

Communication No. 3 was read, but as it treated of a subject which was declared to be outside the judiciary limits of council, the NEWS reporter was requested to "expunge" the same from his report, and it it is hereby expunged.

Communication No. 4 was from R. V. Miller, in which he made a proposition to council to put Curtin street in a completed condition for the price of 25 cents per lineal foot, not to exceed 30 feet in width. This to include more fully breaking of stone and a three inch covering over the same.

The Street committee reported considerable miscellaneous work done. That the assessments for the paving of the diamond had all been made and collected and that the new Lamb street bridge would be completed and open for travel by the latter part of this week.

The Water committee reported the fire plug taken away from the corner of Lamb and Spring streets; two connections were made and a number of small leaks repaired, while the works are kept running the usual number of hours to keep up the water supply.

The Fire and Police committee presented a request for the regular annual appropriation for the fire companies.

The Market committee reported large curb markets and $8 market fees collected during the past two weeks.

The Nuisance committee reported "the removal of a dead cat, which could not walk, for which Michael Berger, High Constable, wanted 50 cents." [The foregoing is verbatim.—ED.]

The Finance committee reported a balance due the borough treasurer of $11,959.99; and the treasurer, being present, asked to be authorized to borrow money to pay current bills. On motion of Mr. Williams the proper authorization was given.

Mr. Gerberich asked that the street from Gerberich & Hale's mill to Thomas street be put in a better condition. This matter was referred to the Street committee with instructions to make the necessary repairs.

Mr. Munson's complaint about the condition of the sewer near his residence was taken up, and then it was discovered that almost every sewer in town overflowed into somebody's cellar, and the easiest way to get rid of the vexed question was to refer it to the Street committee.

The resignation of Gen. Beaver was accepted with the deepest of regret and the election of a successor, which, by law, devolves on council, was postponed until the next meeting night.

A hog pen in the rear of the Bush House was reported as a nuisance. This brought forth the inquiry if there was not an ordinance prohibiting hog pens within the borough limits, and this was considered too big a subject to handle just at present, the passing of the cow ordinance still being too fresh in the minds of all, and the hog pens being too numerous in Bellefonte, that the subject was dropped by referring the particular pen referred to the Nuisance committee.

On motion council voted to grant the request of the Fire and Police committee for the fire company appropriations, on condition that they would not draw the money yet awhile—until there was some to draw.

The proposition of Robert Miller to fix up Curtin street was laid on the table.

The special committee appointed to consider, revise and report the new market ordinance, submitted a document which they approved. It was read to council and then discussed. Discussed with about as much vigor as the Kansas legislature discussed State issues, only that the shot guns and sledge hammers were not available to enforce arguments advanced. But it all ended in the ordinance being accepted, ordained and enacted.

On motion of Mr. Bush the action of council at its last meeting instructing the Street committee to move the arc light on Linn street, was reconsidered, and the light will stay where it is.

On motion all petitions for additional lights were laid on the table until the next meeting night.

The borough solicitor was instructed to give notice to the property owners along South Potter street to build a boardwalk.

The clerk was again instructed to write to the officials of the Lewisburg railroad relative to a watchman at the crossing near Jackson's mill.

There being no further business before the house the following bills were approved and council adjourned:

Second Brigade Encampment.

The following order has just been issued from headquarters of the Second Brigade, N. G. P. Pursuant to General Orders No. 15 C. S., Headquarters National Guard of Pennsylvania, this brigade will encamp at Glencairn Station on the Allegheny Valley railroad from August 3rd to 10th, inclusive. The encampment will be known as Camp Gen'l W. W. Greenland. The several organizations of the brigade, properly equipped, will report on the grounds not later than the evening of the 2d of August provided with sufficient cooked rations to last until the forenoon of the next day. Mounted officers will provide themselves with horses and the regulation equipment. Details for preparing the camp will be made from the various organizations and will proceed so that two full days—the 1st and 2nd of August—may be had for work on the grounds. They will be in charge of a commissioned officer from each regiment, troop or battery, and a medical officer from each regiment, who will upon arrival, report to Major E. Robbins of their headquarters whose headquurters will be on the ground. The camp duties will begin on the morning of the 3rd of August and the following routine is prescribed. Morning Gun 6 a. m. Reveille 6.05 a. m. Police Call 6.30 a. m., Breakfast 7 a. m Surgeon's Call 7.30 a. m. Guard Mounting 8.30 a. m. Dinner 12 a. m. Supper 7. p. m. Retreat, Evening Gun Sunset, Tattoo 9.30 p. m., Taps 10.45 p. m.

Officers and men can receive pay only by their continuous attendance during the entire period of camp. Any officer absolutely unable to attend should apply at brigade headquarters through the proper channels for a leave of absence; an enlisted man for a furlough. Colonels and captains have no power to excuse any one, and a failure to apply to the proper authorities may result in the most serious consequences. It must be understood that the brigade commander has unlimited power to grant leaves and furloughs, but can only grant them for reasons which would be sufficient in actual service in the field. Mere personal or busines inconvience cannot be accepted as a ground for excuse. * * * There has been some objection made to the selection of the camp ground on account of its proximity to a very large population that would attend. The citizens of the whole state are, during the day welcome visitors, coming either from curiosity, pleasure, or interest to observe the conduct, efficiency and discipline of their Guard. It therefore becomes the duty of every officer or enlisted man to bend his efforts toward the most exemplary conduct both in and out of camp, and his duty as well, to preserve among our visitors that condition of affairs to be most desired by all respectable people. It is the desire and direction of the Brigadier General commanding that this be made the best and most successful encampment that the Brigade has participated in, and to that end the absolute and constant attention of every officer and enlisted man is invoked. There must be strict and prompt obedience and a hearty, earnest effort made to do your duty, to the honor of your State, your Brigade and yourself. The postoffice of the camp will be Freeport, Armstrong county Pa. Brigade headquarters will be established in camp on Thursday, Aug. 1, 1895.

Tramps in large numbers are becoming intolerable nuisances in many of the small towns on railroad lines where there are no police to confront them.

AMIDST A BLAZE OF GLORY.

Everybody Pleased with the Big Pyrotechnical Show—Excellent Performers and Exciting Specialties Interest Spectators.

The great spectacular production, "The Destruction of Herculaneum," was witnessed by about 1,500 people last Saturday night at the Williamsport Athletic park. For a first night production it was admirable throughout. The great climax, when Vesuvius pours forth its flood of burning lava and showers of stones, baffles description. The numerous specialties are of a high order and many are the finest that have been seen in this city. Perhaps the most enjoyable performance of the first part of the production was the grand ballet des fleurs in which nearly 100 dancers took part.

The mechanical arrangements of the spectacle are perfect in every respect, and the onlooker is asked to carry himself back to the 24th of August, 79 B. C., the day that was set apart in honor of Hercules, the supposed founder of the city and incidentally to witness the marriage ceremony of the rectina to one of the Roman nobles. Herculaneum was, with Pompeii, termed the luxurious and beautiful, and it was a type of the most advanced civilization of the period. Its architecture was noble, and the imitation of a grand plaza of the period that was exhibited was praised on all sides.

The Williamsport Times gives a lengthy and glowing description of the entire performance and then ends up as follows:

The scene is a glorious one, and is a marvel of pyrotechnic skill. The loud explosions and the stream of fire leaping from the crater of the mountain the fire of lava spreading to all parts of the city. The lurid light, everything is realistic in the extreme, and it is a grand climax well rendered. There follows a period of intense darkness, when only the pale light of the moon sheds its rays on the ruins of the beautiful city.

The darkness is relieved soon by a fine display of sky rockets of various sorts, and numerous set pieces, which are remarkable for noise and brilliant effects. One very amusing piece portrayed the figure of a man performing the most ridiculous and at the same time reckless feats on a horizontal bar. A huge set piece showed the face of Mayor Elliot. "Good Night" sent the more than satisfied people home.

All credit is due to the managers of Athletic park for providing the people of central Pennsylvania with such a complete entertainment, and the seating capacity of the park will be taxed, no doubt, to its utmost during the evenings of the coming week. The managers have provided every comfort for their patrons and there will be no danger of the usual crushes which are common to such entertainments, for with three ticket offices and as many entries, together with two driveways, they will be easily able to handle all the crowd of next week. It is well worth the price of admission, and the performances of each evening form a complete whole and are the same during the 10 nights' entertainment.

If Caught Will be Lynched.

Cleveland, O., July 5.—A special from Gallipolis, O., says: The Sons of Veterans at Lincoln, gave an ice cream supper at the Grand Army of the Republic hall last night. Among those present were C. Tipton, his wife, from whom he had lately been separated, and J. Wills, a young school teacher and the son of a wealthy farmer. Tipton had boasted that he would kill the next man whom he caught talking to his wife. During the evening the woman engaged Wills in conversation and Tipton's attention was called to it. He immediately left his seat, went outside, and placing a revolver close to Wills's head, fired two shots into his brain, through the window. He then shot and killed his wife before anyone could interfere, and escaped to the hills. At last accounts he was being pursued by a posse, and if caught, the county will be saved the expense of a trial. Tipton is an adopted son of Robert Stewart, one of the prominent and wealthy citizens of the county. He is 24 years old. He wife left him on account of his cruelty.

A Good Word for the Crow.

The Department of Agriculture at Washington has come out in defense of the crow, as an insectiverous bird, and denounces the crow catchers. In a recent report farmers are cautioned against waging a general war of extermination of crows and blackbirds. While at times they do injure crops, their depredations, according to the department, can usually be prevented. On the other hand they do incalculable good in destroying insects. The grain eaten by them under ordinary circumstances does not cause serious loss, as much of it consists of scattered or waste kernels.

True, Every Word.

Here is what Peter Cooper, who died worth many millions, said of a newspaper; In all towns where a newspaper is published, every man should advertise in it, if nothing more than a card stating his name and the business he is in. It not only pays to advertise, but it lets people at a distance know that the town in which you reside is a prosperous community of business men. As the seed is sown so the seed recompenses. Never pull down the sign while you expect to do business.

THE WALLER MATTER.

Uncle Sam Will Ask France for Some Information.

Washington, July 5.—It is understood that the state department has requested Ambassador Eustis to push the Waller matter with the French government to a final conclusion as speedily as possible. The attention of the department has just been called by Mr. R. B. Bray, the stepson of ex-Consul Waller, to the fact that Mr. Waller has been denied all medical attention by the French prison authorities and that he is suffering from chills and is in an altogether lamentable condition. As soon as the department was made aware of this condition of affairs a cablegram was at once sent to Ambassador Eustis to see that Mr. Waller had proper attention, and that his case was considered with proper speed. Some of the personal friends of the ex-consul are making up a purse which will be sent him, from which it is hoped he will be able to secure personal comfort while in prison.

The department has also sent a message to the consul at Antananarivo, the capital of Madagascar, asking him to look after the family of the ex-consul. No word has been received from his family since last January, and it is uncertain as to when word can reach them, for the city is in a state of siege and all communications have to pass the inspection of the French military authorities. The nearest United States official on the island of Madagascar is the consul at Tamatave, which is 200 miles distant.

Censured the Mayor.

Williamsport, Pa., July 5.—The verdict of the coroner's jury on last night's fatal accident, by which Mrs. Alice Glace was killed and Mrs. Phoebe Koch fatally injured, censures Mayor Elliott for not enforcing the ordinance requiring the display of lights on building material left on the streets at night; also the policemen for not reporting the violation. Contractor A. H. Waltz and sub-contractor T. Marsch are declared to be guilty of criminal negligence for not placing lights on the material as required by law. The motorman is exonerated. The verdict also says that if the car had been provided with a tender the fatality might have been avoided. The accident was caused by the victims driving into a stone pile, causing their vehicle to be thrown on the track in front of an approaching car.

Sixteen Persons Killed.

Panama, July 5.—A boiler in the electric light plant at Carthagena exploded on Monday morning at 1 o'clock. A number of prisoners who were confined in the jail near the works were killed. The shock threw down two buildings in the neighborhood. So far it is known that sixteen persons were killed. Many others are supposed to be entombed in the ruins of the plant, which was totally wrecked.

The delegates chosen at that time will meet in convention at the Court House in Bellefonte, on Tuesday, July 23rd, 1895, at 11 o'clock a. m., for the purpose of nominating one person for the office of Prothonotary and one person for the office of District Attorney. They will also elect three conferees to meet with conferees from other counties of the 28th Congressional District, for the purpose of electing a delegate and alternate to the National Republican Convention in 1895.

W. E. GRAY, Chairman.

HARRY KELLER, Secretary,

Family of Large Children.

There was a reunion of the Coleman family at Tionesta one day last week. Harmon Coleman and his wife are the father and mother, and they are of only ordinary stature. But their sons are extraordinarily big men. J. F. is 6 feet 5 inches; Henry, 6 feet 2 inches; William, 6 feet 3 inches; J. E., 6 feet 5 inches; S. W., 6 feet 3 inches, and Frank, the short one of the stalwart family, an exact 6 feet. These measurements were all taken in stocking feet. The total height of the entire sextette collectively is 37 feet 4 inches.

In the war the peach growers of Georgia are waging against the high railroad rates for carrying fruit they will have the sympathy of the consuming public. The charge now for transporting a car of fruit from Atlanta to New York is $175, to which must be added $90, the cost for ice. But the total cost to Chicago is only $217, a difference of $52 in favor of the latter place, although the distance is nearly the same. The growers claim that the rates to the East are exorbitant, and in this position they are sustained by the Georgia State Railroad Commission, which has made a report claiming that a total charge of $220 a car from Atlanta to New York is sufficient. It is to be hoped that the controversy will be speedily settled. The Georgia peach crop is the largest one ever grown in that State, but if the transportation rates are prohibitive much of it will have to rot on the trees. The producer, carrieres and consumer have a mutual interest in this matter, and a compromise should be found by which the good of all will be conserved.

The young man with his turned up duck trousers is now very much in evidence.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington, July 8, 1895.

From our Regular Correspondent.)

The man who could have prevented Mr. Cleveland's nomination in '92 is determined to prevent his nomination in '96. That man is Senator Gorman. It is well known that Gorman had only to say one word at the Democratic Convention of '92, and Mr. Cleveland's nomination would have been impossible. Gorman wanted that nomination himself, and when a canvass of the convention showed that while he could get votes enough pledged to defeat Cleveland, he could not get enough to be nominated himself, he declined to allow the use of his name before the convention and Mr. Cleveland was nominated. He wants that nomination now just as bad as he ever did, and is determined to keep Mr. Cleveland out of it whether he can get it himself or not. His supporters are some of the shrewdest workers in the democratic party and, like him, they all dislike Mr. Cleveland. These men are taking especial pains to inform the democratic voters—by other methods than the party papers—that it was the killing of the Wilson Tariff Bill, which was Mr. Cleveland's own measure, and the adoption of the Gorman-Brice Tariff Bill, which was publicly denounced although afterwards signed under compulsion by Mr. Cleveland, that saved the industrial and commercial interests of the country from ruin and the National Treasury from bankruptcy. The Gorman men are perfectly confident that they can control more than one-third of the Democratic Convention and defeat the nomination of Mr. Cleveland or any man named by him, even if they do not succeed in nominating Gorman. They are not doing any talking for publication, but they are out for blood, so to speak, and they are getting it, too.

One of the few democrats who is on visiting terms at Gray Gables has written to a Washington friend saying that ex-Governor Campbell, of Ohio, is no longer persona grata to his highness, Grover I. That jingo Fourth of July speech which Mr. Campbell made before Tammany is what did the business. It was taken as a personal insult by Mr. Cleveland, and coming from the source it did it was especially galling. Mr. Campbell, in addition to having been given the privilege of declining a place in the cabinet, has controlled to a much greater extent than any other one man the Federal appointments which have been given to Ohio men under this administration, and his loyalty to Mr. Cleveland was confidently counted upon. But that is all over now, and if Mr. Campbell gets within speaking distance of a place on the democratic National ticket he will do so without any aid from Mr. Cleveland or any member of his administration. Mr. Campbell passed through Washington on his way back home, but he declined to discuss the effect that speech had had or was likely to have upon his relations with the administration; but from the talk of some of his personal friends it is clear that his object in making the speech was not only to announce his candidacy for the presidential nomination but to discount the effect of the robust declaration in favor of the enforcement of the spirit and letter of the Monroe Doctrine which everybody expects to be made by the Republicans in Congress very early in the next session. Mr. Campbell knows, as everybody who has given the subject any attention does, that nine-tenths of the people in this country are opposed to the humble pie, surrender-everything foreign policy of the present administration; hence his indirect condemnation and repudiation of it.

Mr. Willis L. Moore, the new chief of the Weather Bureau, is a journeyman printer, a protege of the late Frank Hatton, and the manner in which he secured the appointment, although himself a republican, shows him to have the proverbial shrewdness of the craft. He has been connected with the bureau for about 20 years, having originally enlisted as a private in the Signal Service, and has for several years been chief forecaster at the Chicago office. He has used a system of his own in making weather forecasts, which have proven to be the most accurate made in the country. He claims that the system was discovered by himself, and it was his refusal to give away his secret that put him at the head of the bureau. Secretary Morton wanted the other forecasters to have the benefit of this system, but it was only when Moore was sure of being put at the head of the bureau that he agreed to part with his secret. The average printer doesn't need anybody to tell him how to work a good thing when it comes his way.

THE Review of Reviews for July, in an article on "Mexico as the Cradle of Man's Primitive Traditions," publishes some of the results of Dr. Augustus le Plongeon's remarkable researches in Yucatan. M. le Plongeon has spent twelve years in exploring and excavating the ruins of lost cities in that interesting country, and is thoroughly familiar with their antiquities. As a result of these investigations, he has become convinced that Yucatan is the long-sought "cradle of the human race." The Review publishes Dr. le Plongeon's speculations for what they are worth, but his laborious research is certainly commendable, and has brought to light much valuable material; it is to acquaint American readers with the wonderful remains of prehistoric civilization that lie across our Southern boundry that attention is directed to his discoveries.

Experiment Station Notes.

The appearance of the report of the Station for 1894 has been considerably delayed, owing to the fact that the MS. was destroyed by fire in the State printing office in February. The MS. was re-produced as promptly as possible, and the report is now ready for distribution.

The most prominent feature of the volume is the report upon the co-operative experiments with tobacco, carried on in Lancaster county in co-operation with the Lancaster County Tobacco Growers' Society under the provisions of the Act of June 8th, 1893. These experiments include investigations of the physical and chemical properties of the soils, experiments upon the use of commercial fertilizers and their effect upon the yield, size and quality of leaf, and experiments upon the curing of tobacco, especially upon the use of artificial heat in curing. The latter experiments are especially interesting and, while definite results were not reached, the process seems to be one of great promise.

The subject of tuberculosis is treated by Dr. Leonard Pearson, the article covering such points as the history of tuberculosis, its distribution among animals, its prevalence in this country, the conditions favoring its development in herds, and the location and symptoms of the disease. The tuberculin test is described at length, with the precautions necessary to be observed in using it, and the results of tests upon the Experiment Station herd are given to combat the idea that the use of tuberculin is injurious to animals. A conservative view is taken of the danger of health due to the prevalence of this disease among cattle, while at the same time dairymen are urged to take every precaution to prevent or exterminate the disease, both in their own interest and in that of the public health.

Dairymen will find data of much interest to them in the extensive tests of cream separators made at the Station and at various creameries in the State. The latter tests are interesting as an indication of the losses sustained in the creameries of this State by poor management, this loss amounting in the case of some creameries to as much as $10 per day.

The general subject of stock feeding, including the composition of feeding stuffs, the feeding standards and the computation of rations is treated in a short article which will be republished in pamphlet form for free distribution. Experiments upon the use of cotton seed feed for dairy cows and upon the comparative value of silage, sugar beets and mangels are also reported.

A very interesting summary is given of the fertilizer experiments which have been carried on at the Station for the past twelve years. Numerous varieties of wheat, oats and potatoes are reported upon, and extensive tabular data as to the meteorology of the year conclude the volume.

The annual reports and quarterly bulletins of the Station will be sent, free of charge, on application. Correspondence on agricultural subjects is desired.

Coal Seventy Feet Thick.

A party of Massillion coal diggers have returned from Marseilles, Mo., bringing tales of coal veins 75 feet thick. This remarkable deposit lies 30 feet below the surface and will be blasted and quarried like Ohio building stone. At first it may seem ridiculous to speak of coal 75 feet thick, but it turns out that the report is correct and that a company of Pittsburg and Ohio capitalists has been organized to develop the territory. J. F. Pacock, one of the heaviest Massillion operators, recently went to the scene and satisfied himself that an opportunity for profitable investment existed.—Pittsburg Press.

Hottest Place in the State.

Official weather reports of the United States bureau show that the hottest place in Pennsylvania is the country between Harrisburg and Lancaster, the former being the hottest town. The figures are an average for the twenty odd years during which official records have been kept. Philadelphia is considerably cooler, on an average, than those places.

The solidest man in Texas,
The Wickedest man on earth,
The solemn-most saint in Chicago,
And the dearest "Fair Maid of Perth"
Will "pool" their issues when ever it comes
To getting their money's worth.

And they are wise. Scrofula, Bronchitis, Liver Ailments, Consumption, Dyspepsia, and weak kidneys put one entirely out of the humor of fooling along, wasting health and wealth on humbugs, when a reasonable sum expended for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery would restore their bodies and "put money in their purses."

Commissioners office, Bellefonte, May 21, 1895. 5-23-4t

A well selected text is half of the sermon. Given a good text and a preacher who is in earnest, and the result is sure to be good. The text of this article is a plain simple statement that proves itself in the reader's own mind without argument. The text is "Good health is better than great riches."

Without health nothing really matters very much. A hacking cough takes all the beauty out of a landscape or a sunset. Erysipelas or eczema will spoil the enjoyment of sprightly conversation, of a beautiful concert, of a wonderful painting. The biggest bank account in the world won't pay a man for his health, but a very small amount of money will make him healthy and keep him healthy.

Most all bodily troubles start in the digestive or respiratory organs. It is here that improper living first makes an opening for disease. The development differs as constitutions and temperaments differ. The causes are almost identical. To get at the root of the matter is simple enough if you start right.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a medicine for the whole body. It works through the digestive organs on all the others.

It cures the first thing it comes to and after that, the next. It puts health in place of disease in the stomach, and from the vantage ground thus gained, it reaches every fiber of the body and drives disease before it—indigestion, liver troubles, kidney complaint, biliousness, skin and scalp diseases, salt-rheum, tetter, eczema, and all the troubles caused by impure blood.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."

DR. G. C. OSGOOD,
Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

DR. J. F. KINCHELOE,
Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."

H. A. ARCHER, M. D.,
111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

Among our numerous exchanges, we find at this season of the year a warning something like the following; "Unripe green apples have made their appearance on the fruit stands, and are, of course purchased by children. They have for, years been appropriately syled 'cholera pills.' That they are in the highest degree detrimental to the health of those who eat them is too well known to require other proofs than those abundantly given in the past." Those who have lived in the country never found the mortality among children worse there than any place else. In a way there seems to be an affinity between a boy's stomach and green fruit. He tries them all—apples, cherries, gooseberries, currants, blackberries and so on. He is oft barefooted, ragged and dirty face. He is seldom harmed by his looks or his eating. He oft gathers half-ripe apples and places them in the haymow to soften and mellow, but takes care to eat them before time gives them a half-decayed ripeness. But this applies to the country boy. The city boy is no doubt different both in action and physical makeup. After all, our contemporaries are right and city parents should act accordingly. But green fruit hurt a country boy—never!

Every summer after the storing of the hay and grain crops we hear of fires, the origin of which being unknown, is ascribed to incendiarism, though doubtless if the real cause could be ascertained it would be found that they were the results of spontaneous combustion—owing to hay or other new crops while in process of fermentation evolving heat sufficient to produce fire. If farmers wish to prevent their hay stacks or barns from firing they need only to scatter a few handfuls of common salt between the layers. The theory is that the salt by absorbing the humidity of the hay not only prevents its fermentation, and consequently heating, but it also adds a new salty taste to this forage which all cattle like, and besides, it stipulates the appetite and assists their digestion, and so preserves them from many diseases.

Hood's Saved My Life

I Can Honestly Say This

Mr. W. R. Young, Potter's Mills, Pa.

"For years I was in a very serious condition with catarrh of the stomach, bowels and bladder. I suffered intensely from dyspepsia, and in fact was a miserable wreck, merely a skeleton. I seemed to go from bad to worse. I really wished I was dead. I had no rest day or night. I did not know what to do. I had taken so much medicine of the wrong kind that it had poisoned me, and my finger nails began to turn black and come off. I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. I had faith in the medicine, and it did more for me than all prescriptions. I have gradually regained perfect health, am entirely free from catarrh of the bowels, and pain in my back. My recovery is simply marvelous." W. R. YOUNG, Potter's Mills, Pa.

A Beverage for Wheelmen.

Next to being lost at sea there is nothing that brings of thirst quicker than bicycle riding. The hot sun and the constant inhalation of dust quickly parches the throat and makes the biker long for the next stop for refreshments. The wise rider avoids ice water, well knowing its danger. Alcoholic beverages are likewise tabooed because of their heating propensities, and there is little satisfaction in wishy-washy stuff sold under the broad classification of "soft drinks." A well-known wheelman, is speaking of this, said:

"What to drink is no easy problem to a man on a long, hot run. The only drink I know really fit for a bicycle rider is Hires' Rootbeer, carbonated. There are but few places now at which it cannot be had, and I tell you it braces one right up, seems to go right down to the bottom of your pedal workers. It is cooling and refreshing, quickly lowering your temperature and fully satisfying your thirst. I tell you there's nothing like it, and I've sworn off all other drinks on the road." Hires' Rootbeer, carbonated, is made from the famous Hires' Rootbeer extract by the same formula without adulteration of any kind. Besides being delicious it possesses many medical qualities, making it as popular with wheelmen and pedestrians as the good hymn made Hires' Rootbeer is with the folks at home.

Took Hold of a Live Wire.

DuBois Courier: Sammy Plant, foreman of repair work on the street car track, had a narrow escape from being electrocuted Saturday afternoon. He was near the power house at the time when he picked up a wire to pull it straight. He had no sooner touched it than he was upset and rendered unconscious. Joseph Neely and George Reams witnessed the accident and rendered Plant prompt relief or he never would have lived to tell the story of how it felt to have 500 volts pass through his body. He was able to walk home in an hour after the accident and has since been nursing a badly burned and blistered arm and hand.

The Owner of the Cow Dead.

Mrs. Catharine O'Leary died in Chicago on the 3d. She was the owner of the fractious cow which in a barn in the rear of No. 137 Dekoven street, on a memorable night in October, 1871, kicked over a lamp and started a blaze which cost Chicago $190,000,000. Since the night of that historic conflagration Mrs. O'Leary's life was burdened by the charge that she was responsible for the loss of life and enormous destruction of property. She denied the story vigorously, and before the committee which investigated the fire and its causes made affidavits that the allegations about herself and the cow and the lamp were not true.

Ton of Coal Fixed by Law.

A Harrisburg dispatch says that one of the laws of widespread interest in Pennsylvania signed recently by the Governor is that fixing 2,240 pounds as a ton of coal. Dealers who sell less than that can now be fined. In some parts of the state dealers have been giving only 2,000 pounds for a ton, and the complaining housekeeper could not easily get redress. Now the exact ton is fixed by law, and coal dealers will have to look sharp lest they tumble into a trap by giving light weight.

Full of years and honors, Mr. Gladstone retires forever from public life. His career has been a long, pure and honorable one and something unique in political history. He began life a Tory, next turned a Conservative, and in his old age became the leader and champion of Liberalism. He may not have accomplished much in the way of real reform, but he breathed into politics the spirit of moral enthusiasm. This was much. He has given the world an object lesson on character. Other statesmen in the past had greater special talents but equalled in moral grandeur. He, therefore, has given England and the world a legacy. It was Lord John Russel who remarked that the people of England were willing to listen to men of ability, but in the long run they followed men of character. This gave a chance to a man like Gladstone—combining both intellectual strength and moral force. The world loses much when such men fall.

Robert Louis Stevenson's last story, "St. Ives," was left at his death practically completed, so it is stated by those who have seen the manuscript. Many chapters had even received before the author's final revision. Stevenson had been at work upon this novel for more then a year, and the first half of it had been entirely rewritten several times.

The novel is said to deal with the adventures of a Frenchman captured in the Peninsular War and shut up in Edinburgh Castle. A love affair between him and a Scottish maiden; a duel on the maiden's account between him and a fellow-prisoner; and his escape from the prison, are a few of the episodes that promise a romance of as absorbing interest as any Stevenson has produced.

"St. Ives" will be published serially in McClure's Magazine; the price of which, by the way, is to be immediately reduced to 10 cents a copy.

The Governor's Sorrow.

Editorially Monday's Philadelphia Press has the following: The veil of private grief is ordinarily sacred and inviolable. Even friendship can only lift it to offer the word of sympathy which reveals the touch of kin and kind. But it is the penalty of public position that its trials and sorrows are laid bare not less than its triumphs, and that its afflictions and sufferings, however the sufferers would, cannot be borne in silence and solitude. Tennyson has struck the broad note of difference in the touching words he puts into the mouth of one of the humbler figures of Guinevere :—

For me, I thank the saints I am not great,
For if there ever come a grief to me
I cry my silence and have done ;
None knows it, and my tears have brought me good ;
But even were the griefs of little ones
As great as those of great ones, yet the grief
Is added to the griefs the great must bear,
That, howsoever much they may desire
Silence, they cannot weep behind a cloud.

Public life under our modern conditions makes even the most sacred privacies public. The sorrow which has come to Governor Hastings and his family might well be shielded from all intrusion, but the very nature of the case forbids it. The deplorable malady which has overtaken a brother and which has brought so much distress to all who are allied with him by blood, has manifested itself in such wayward, melancholy and demonstrative ways as to preclude silence and to render plain and undistinguished public reference painful as it may be, best equally for the unfortunate and for those who are in anguish because of his lamentable condition.

The letter which, mailed from Europe has been sent to hundreds of persons through the State will carry the sad evidence of its own character to every one who sees and reads it. To all such not a word would be needed. It can only evoke pity for the unhappy condition under which it is written and sincere sympathy for the Governor whose brotherly kindness and tender consideration are subjected to this cruel shock. But vague knowledge and stories of the letter will pass to thousands who will never see it or read it, and for all such it is better that, even at the cost of penetrating the private circle, a free and unreserved statement should be made so that no possible misapprehension may remain in any mind or lurk in any secret channel. We have therefore taken the liberty of presenting such a statement in another column, somewhat in detail, to which we invite the attention of all readers.

It is altogether unnecessary to make any answer to the strange illusions therein indicated, and, of course, it is impossible to cast any reproach upon hapless victim. Irresponsibility is as much beyond criticism as it is beyond control. It not infrequently takes the form of the most violent and vindictive mania against those who have held the closest and tenderest ties. The sad character of the malady in the present case is shown in the fact that not only is it directed against the brother in mere financial matters, but that it breaks forth in far more shocking manner against a revered and almost sainted sister. What makes it the more painful is that while the signs of aberration were only in their incipiency, the unfortunate made his way to Europe where it has become so much more aggravated, and is moving about where fraternal and family consideration cannot reach and minister.

The particular hallucination respecting the Governor naturally concerns him far less than the fact of hallucination itself. The form which it takes is altogether harmless as to him ; but the sorrow remains. For that it is only possible to offer the deepest sympathy. But there is a public as well as a private side. The public station of the Governor has given the letter a circulation and publicity which it would not otherwise have. In Tennyson's phrase he "Cannot weep behind a cloud." It is due that with his private sorrow there should not be any public misconception from secondary reports ; and so we have deemed it best to deal with the matter in a public way which will leave no room for question.

That little Word "Obey."

It is said a good many brides evade the word "obey" in the marriage service by saying "go gay," "say nay," etc. They are unlike Queen Victoria, who, when she was going to be married, was asked by the Archbishop of Canterbury whether it would be desirable to omit the word obey, and she answered, "I wish to be married as a woman, not as a queen." At a negro wedding, when the clergymen read the words "love, honor and obey," the bridegroom interrupted him and said, "Read dat again, sah; read it once mo', so's de lady kin katch de full solemnity ob de meanin. I'se been married befo." The vexed question of conjugal obedience was settled by Spurgeon in a characteristic way. In an address at the marriage of a daughter of a friend he spoke thus to the bride about her future lord: "Let him be the head, and do you be the neck, and turn him which way you please."

Industrial Statistics.

Captain James M. Clark, chief of the bureau of industrial statistics, will issue a report early in 1896 containing statistics as to products from all the manufacturing in the state. The captain says the report will be the most important and comprehensive ever issued by the department. He is now preparing a directory of all the manufactories in the state. When this work is complete the attaches of the bureau will begin the statistics.

'TWAS A FREE FIGHT.

Amandus Rice Shoots Three Brothers named Pender.

Bethlehem, Pa., July 5.—Late last night Amandus Rice, proprietor of the Mountain View hotel, between Wind Gap and Ross Common, resented an insult to his wife by shooting down three brothers, Henry, John and Patrick Pender, probably fatally injuring Henry Pender. Rice shot the men in a fierce fight, in which he was half beaten to death with clubs and beer glasses.

A few days ago the Pender boys came to the hotel in Rice's absence, and Mrs. Rice claimed they had insulted her. Her husband said openly that he would resent the insult as soon as the opportunity afforded.

Last night there was a dance at the hotel and the Pender boys intruded. In a free fight which followed Rice fired seven shots from a revolver at them, only one taking effect. John Pender sustained a scalp wound. When he fell his two brothers overpowered Rice and beat him badly.

The crowd separated the fighters, when Rice ran up stairs, got his shot gun and, dragging himself into the street, fired his gun through the barroom window at the Pender brothers at close range. Henry Pender received nearly the full charge of shot in his breast and head, while Patrick was painfully, though not seriously, wounded. Henry was removed to the county hospital at Nazareth and his condition to-night is precarious.

Rice is confined to bed by his injuries and will be promptly arrested in case of Henry's death. The Penders were employes of the Imperial slate quarry. Henry was the only one married.

Indulged in a Free Fight.

Pottsville Pa., July 5.—A free fight took place yesterday afternoon between residents of Mount Carbon and a band of tramps, in which knives and stones were used as weapons. The Mount Carbon residents were celebrating the day drinking beer, and while the jollification was in progress a band of tramps invaded the picnic grounds and upon being ordered away turned upon the picnickers and showed fight.

The challenge was accepted and the result of the battle is the probable fatal wounding of J. Reardon, alias J. Evans, and A. Kelly, two of the band. Both men were taken to the hospital at the county almshouse. Reardon said he lived at Rutland, Vt., where he has a wife and two children. Ten of the tramps were lodged in the county prison. Kean and Murphy of Mount Carbon, were arrested and the latter was committed to prison. Kean was admitted to $1,000 bail.

THE truth about the silver question is that the Republican party is not bound to rush in and settle a Democratic fight.

Last of the Gold Discoverers.

James Brown, aged 70, who resides in Pomona Valley, California, is, says the New York Sun, the last survivor of the party who were with James W. Marshall at Sutters Mill, when the discovery of gold was made. The find was made January 24, 1848. Brown says of it: "We boys were excavating in the ditch when he came up from the hole where he was working and told us he had found some mineral. He had it in his hat, and a whole lot of little flake like scales. They were all small bits, and all scaly, and he wasn't sure what they were. He handed the hat to me and I took one of the flakes and bit it. I could tell by biting it that it was gold, but I wasn't sure. So I took it into the cabin where a log fire was burning, and I tested it in the fire to see if it would melt. But it wouldn't melt, and then I knew it was gold sure. Then I came out with it to where the men were working, and said, "boys, it's gold!" That was the first announcement of the discovery of gold in California, and I was the first man to test the metal and the first man to proclaim it."

JUDGE HARRY WHITE, of Indiana County, has created a good deal of astonishment by granting three liquor licenses in his district. This is the first time a license has been issued in that country in ten years. During the last campaign there was considerable talk that licenses would be issued in the future, and as there never was any great trouble to get liquor in the county, it being a matter of sworn evidence that large quantities of it were used in the late judgeship campaign, it will no doubt be regarded as better to have its sale restricted according to law. The licenses granted are accompanied by certain wholesome conditions likely to make them much less offensive to strict prohibitionists than would otherwise be the case. In granting these privileges Judge White gave a lengthy opinion in reversal of his former attitude, but as it has not yet been printed his public reasons for changing the settled policy of ten years are not known.

WITCH HAZEL OIL

JONES—ARMOR.

A Beautiful Wedding on Wednesday Evening.

Editors, it seems, will marry just as well as other people, a fact fully demonstrated by the ceremony on Wednesday evening which united in matrimony Miss Stella Armor, daughter of Mr. Monroe Armor, and Mr. Claude Jones, editor of the Tyrone Herald, and son of Capt. C. S. W. Jones, of the Sheridan Troop. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. B. Armor, an elder brother of the bride, and the time was 6 o'clock. It was witnessed by only the immediate relatives and friends of the young couple. The bride looked unusually lovely in a gown of white mulle over silk, trimmed with ribbons and lace and carrying a boquet of bride's roses she appeared the picture of loveliness and grace. The bridesmaid was Miss Grace Armor, sister, wearing white mulle with pink ribbons and flowers. Mr. Clem Hiltner, of Tyrone, was Mr. Jones' groomsman.

From 7 to 9 a reception was given at the home of the bride, on East Linn street, which was attended by a large gathering of people among whom there were many young people from Bellefonte and Tyrone with whom the bride and groom were favorites and always intimately associated in the leading social events. The house was beautifully decorated with alms, ferns and roses and was a bower of fragrance. The bride was assisted in receiving by Miss Elizabeth Reilly, of Lancaster; Misses Hiltner and Caldwell, of Tyrone; and Miss Rose Fox, of Bellefonte. They wore exquisite gowns of white swiss, trimmed with colored ribbons.

The bride was the recipient of many very handsome, valuable and useful presents. They departed on the 8.41 train for a two week's honeymoon at the seashore and other eastern cities and on their return, about July 15th, they will settle down to housekeeping in Tyrone, where the groom will resume his duties as editor of one of the brightest little dailies published in the State.

With numerous friends we beg to extend congratulations and best wishes.

The Appeal.

The county commissioners, Strohm, Fiedler and Adams, with Stenographer Spangler and Attorney Fortney, sat yesterday in the public building and listened to the appeals of property owners from the new tax assessment. Nearly every property owner in town and township appealed from the assessment, which is outrageously high and out of proportion. The citizens of the borough will not object to having the valuation raised ifit is done equitably and the tax rate is lowered proportionately, but they do strongly object to the present valuation, especially as the county tax rate is not lowered. There is something wrong and the commissioners can not or will not give any explanation. They listened very patiently to everybody and took a great deal of abuse very good naturedly, but none of the appellants were any wiser after it was over than before.—Wednesday's Philipeburg Ledger.

Before Squire Keichline.

Wednsday evening Frank Scott, of Bellefonte, was arranged before Squire Keichline to answer the charge of throwing a stone through the window of a room in the Bush House block, occupied by Mrs. Hoover. The act was committted on the night of the 17th of June. The Plaintiff claims that she had been having a good bit of trouble with Mr. Scott who denied that he ever was near the house or knew Mrs. Hoover. The wife of Mr. Scott testified that on the night and time the said offense was committed the defendant was at home in bed. H. S. Taylor, Esq., represented the defendant and claimed that Mrs. Hoover failed to substantiate her case and asked for the release of Mr. Scott. The Squire believing that the plaintiff was telling about the straight story, bound Mr. Scott over for court.

Handsome Building Brick.

At the Mill Hall brick works the manufacture of a new building brick was begun recently, and a few days ago the first kiln was burned. The brick are of a yellowish tint, the material used in their composition being fire clay and iron. Building experts who have examined the brick say they are the handsomest pressed building brick they have ever seen. Another kiln is being burned at present and will be opened in a few days.

A Change in the Altoona Times.

The firm of Potter, Stahl & Co., proprietors of the Altoona Times, was dissolved on Tuesday, Messrs. John B. Stahl and Joseph J. Sansom retiring. The new firm, which takes the place of the old one, s Potter, Greer, Kelly & Co, and is composed of Messrs. D. L. Potter, Charles A. Greer, P. H. Kelly and John A. Lawyer, Potter and Greer having been members of the preceding firm. To the new firm we wish success.

Elected to a Professorship.

Rev. Jacob Yutsy, about a dozen of years ago pastor of the Baldburg and Pleasant Gap Lutheran charge, having been elected to the Professorship of Greek and Oriental languages, in the Susquehanna University, at Selinsgrove, last week resigned his pastorate of the Lutheran church of Selinsgrove, a position which he has held for thirteen years.

The Truth of the Matter.

The criticism in the whiskey organ of Centre county, more familiarly known as the Centre Democrat, upon the alleged deception of the Y. M. C. A. committee in advertising John Wanamaker as one of the prospective speakers at Hecla Park last week, is a malicious libel on the christian workers of Bellefonte; and yet only what might be expected from one of Mr. Kurtz's religious calibre—the spokesman of the saloon gang. Such attempted abuse as characterizes his article, of course, would have weight with none but those after his own stripe. If Mr. Kurtz had wished to speak for himself alone and had had the fairness, principle and "backbone" to meet the committee in charge of the rally and learn the facts in the case he would have found out, undoubtedly, to his great disappointment, the following facts: That the committee were assured that Mr, Wanamaker would be present, else his name would never have been used; that no definite announcement was ever received by the committee that he would not be present; that only two days before the rally Mr. Gephart was talking with Mr. Wanamaker over the telephone to make sure that he would not disappoint us and that then, for the first time, we positively learned that Mr. Wanamaker would not be on deck, owing to the fact that he was to sail to Europe five days after the picnic, and his business demanded his constant attention. Immediately efforts were made to secure Judge Hinckley, of Danville, as his very worthy substitute and they were successful, but there was no opportunity then to undo the advertising in three counties of Mr. Wanamaker's name. Such are the uncontrovertible facts and we are willing to place them in the hands of the jury at large from which come verdicts not based on prejudice nor inspired by innate fondness for throwing mud, but solely on the facts in the case.

A MEMBER OF THE COMMITTEE.

Commencement Exercises.

LOCK HAVEN, PA., June 26.

At the commencement exereises held at the Central State Normat school this evening the graduates, numbering ninety-seven received diplomas by which they are entitled to teach in any part of the State.

The commencement exercises of the evening were exceptionally interesting, consisting of orations by six members of the graduating class, interspersed with music.

Last evening the Alumni, who were present to the number of fully a hundred, were addressed by Dr. George Edward Reed, President of Dickinson College, Carlisle.

The Valley Railroad.

The residents of Sugar Valley are agitated again over a revival of the project for building a railroad through the valley from Watsontown to Lamar. At the latter place the proposed road will connect with the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania, which extends from Mill Hall to Bellefonte Surveyors are at work now in the east end of Sugar Valley, and the presence at Loganton recently of prominent Bellefonte citizens who are said to be interested in the construction of the road give rise to the opinion that it will be built within the next year. In fact, one Bellefonte man who is an interested party, stated to Loganton men that there is now but little doubt of the road being constructed at an early date.

Why Not Try It in This Country?

Denmark's police, when they find a drunken man on the street, summon a cab place him inside and drive to the police station, where he is detained until sober. Then he is driven home, the police never leaving him until he is safe in his family. The cabman then makes his charge, the police surgeon his, the Constables theirs, and the bill is presented to the proprietor of the establishment where the culprit took his last and overpowering drink. This system is tending to reduce the appalling drunkenness which formerly prevailed in Copenhagen.

Received a Position.

Dr. S. E. Noll, of Pleasant Gap, who graduated at the Medico-Chirurgical college, of Philadelphia, a few weeks ago, was notified last week of his appointment as a resident physician for the hospital connected with the institution from which he graduated, and to report for duty at once. This he did, and is now on duty in the surgical department of the institution. This institution is one of the most popular in Philadelphia. Mr. Noll is a young man of pluck and energy and will succeed because of his ability and industry.

Received Without Question.

Wednesday Fred Blanchard and Jay Woodcock received their reports from Princeton College notifying them that they had passed the entrance requirements for admission to the Freshman class without a condition. To say that all interested are much gratified over the reports is unnecessary. One very pleasing circumstance is that the boys passed successfully, the papers for advanced standing in addition to the ordinary entrance papers which fact speaks great things for the continued good work of the Bellefonte Academy.

To be choked for a cherry in Jersey was the old-time saying, but it is now distanced by the murder for stealing corn in Maryland, but still Pennsylvania seems possible in Maryland, and Delaware [illegible] by, too!

—Governor Hastings has signed the State College Appropriation bill for $212,000.

BUCKTAILS

Will Hold Their Next Reunion in Lock Haven.

The dates for the reunion of the famous Bucktail regiment have been selected and the surviving comrades of that old soldier organization will meet in Lock Haven September 4 and 5. The Fallon house will probably be the headquarters. The officers of the association are: Presieent, F. F. Kirk, of Cross Forks; vice president, Sheriff Hoover, of Lock Haven, secretary, Harry Rauch, of Philadelphia.

This regiment rendered gallant service during the civil war. During the three years that it was in active service, the membership by original enlistments and recruits reached a total of between 1,500 and 1,600. Many counties of the state furnished brave boys for the regiment. Company D came from Warren county; company K was made up in Clearfield; company F was organized in Carbon: company H were Chester county men; company B were from Perry county. The other members of the regimect came from Tioga McKean, Elk and Potter counties. The regiment fought in the engagements at Dranesville, Mechanicsville, Gaines Hill, Savage Station, Charles City crossroads, Malvern Hill, Second Bull Run, South Mountain, Antietam, Fredericksburg, Gettysburg Bristow Station, Mine Run, Wilderness, Spottsylvania Court House, Northana, Ross Keys, Harrisonburg and Bethesda church. The surviving comrades now only number about 200, and they are scattered all over the Union.

In view of the good record of these old soldiers, the citizens should bestir themselves to give them a royal welcome when they meet there in September, not only for the gratitude that all should have for the veterans, but also to show that Lock Haven is not lacking in hospitality or cordial greeting. A meeting of the executive committee will be held soon to complete the arrangements.

Two Young Women Killed.

Philadelphia, July 5.—Mary Morgan aged 21 years, and Mary Lafferty, one year her senior, who were included in a party of picnickers, near Holmesburg Junction yesterday, were struck by a Pennsylvania railroad train last night and instantly killed. Their bodies were found this morning. The young women started to walk from the picnic grounds down the railroad tracks to Holmesburg Junction station for the purpose of taking a train for their homes in Philadelphia. They were without escorts and were struck by a train and their bodies were thrown into a clump of bushes beside the tracks.

When the absence of the pair was discovered, the score, or more, of other picnickers searched for them until late in the night, but without success. At 5.30 o'clock this morning Amos Toy, a resident of the locality, while going to his work found the remains in the bushes and several hours later the bodies were identified. It is not known what train struck the couple. Holmesburg Junction is on the New York division of the Pennsylvania railroad.

An Important Test to Be Made.

Washington, July 5.—The navy department has decided to make a practical test of the turret now used on our modern naval vessels. The fine work of the turret and its machinery will be built by the Cramps, and plates manufactured for one of the turrets of the battleship Massachusetts will be fitted to the frame. The tests will be made at the navy proving grounds, Indian Head, Md. The bureau of ordinance will conduct them. They will begin with a ten-inch gun and work upward until the thirteen-inch gun, the largest in use in this country, is reached. The value and resistance of armor plates is now pretty well known, and the object of the test is to determine what effect a shot will have upon the workings of the turret, its mechanism, etc. The test is regarded as one of the greatest importance, as its results may bring about an entire change in the construction of the turrets and the machinery used in manipulating them.

Some Letters Will Be Marked "Fraudulent."

Philadelphia, July 5.—Postmaster Carr has been notified to withhold the payment of money orders to L. Lum Smith, editor and printer, alias Agents' and Advertisers' Exchange; the Herald Publishing company; Novelty Manufacturing company; Tons of Mail company; Agents' Exchange; Lightning Directory company; Herald Box 13,006; New York and London Exchange; the Herald Solid Gas company; Balloon Match Safe company; Herald Stamp Exchange; Smith Manufacturing company and World's Fair Directory company, of this city. The postmaster general has decided that these concerns are conducting a scheme for obtaining money through the mails in violation of law. All other mail matter addressed to them will be returned marked "Fraudulent."

Big Rain in Baltimore.

Baltimore, July 5.—There was a remarkable rainfall, accompanied by vivid lightning and sharp claps of thunder that made even stoical people nervous, shortly after noon to-day. An inch of water fell in half an hour, flooding the streets and basements throughout the city. No such rainfall has been known here in years. As the storm was subsiding quantities of large hail stones fell, and the temperature dropped from 71 to 64 degrees. The storm ended as suddenly as it began.

The bald-headed man and the fly are beginning to wage their annual warfare.

REDUCED RATES TO THE SEA SHORE.

Extremely Low-Rate Excursions via Pennsylvania Railroad.

Every one, old and young, needs rest and recreation at some time during the heated summer term and where can it be obtained better than at the seashore?

No other place can compare with Southern New Jersey in seasides resorts, either in point of number or of excellence. Atlantic City is the most popular resort in America, and Cape May, Sea Island City, Ocean City, Ayalon, Anglesea, Wildwood, and Holly Beach, do not fall far short of Atlantic City's high standard.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company whose object always is to give its patrons the cheapest rates compatible with good service, has arranged for a series of excursions which will leave Pittsburg July 18 and Aug. 1, 15, and 29 and the rates will be as stated below.

The tickets will permit of a stay of nearly two weeks and a choice of either of the seashore points named above will be allowed. A special train of parlor cars and day coaches will leave Pittsburg on each of the above mentioned dates at 8.50 a. m and the time from other stations will be as follows:

	Rate	Train Leaves.
Philipsburg	8.35	10.14 a. m.
Osceola	8.25	10.24 "
Bellefonte	8.65	10.09 "
Tyrone	7.65	1.07 p. m.
Cumberland	8.50	8.30 a. m.
Bedford	8.50	9.46 "
Huntingdon	7.10	1.37 p. m.
Philadelphia	Arrive	6.46 "

A special train will leave Market Street Wharf at 7.30 p. m., July 18, August 1 and 15 for Atlantic City, arriving at Atlantic City about 9.00 p. m. making the run from Pittsburg to the sea shore in twelve hours. Arrangements have been made for transfer of passengers from Broad Street Station to Market Street Wharf on arrival of special train, or passengers can spend the night in the city and proceed to the shore by any regular train of the following day.

For further information apply to ticket agents, or to Mr. Thomas E. Watt, District Passenger Agent, Pittsburg.

Montgomery Man's Inventions.

Daniel J. Shaffer, of Montgomery, is now working on two inventions, which, if they fulfill the expectations of the inventor, will prove valuable to the public. One is what he calls a harmless dynamo, which has for its object the lessening of the fatalities which occur almost daily by reason of contact with electric currents. This machine, Mr. Shaffer claims, will so distribute electricity to the different wires that the voltage in each wire will be decreased below the danger point. The other is a spark arrester for locomotives. By the use of this invention the cinder which now fills the eyes of trainmen and passengers would be collected in a receiver so arranged that they would be carried through a pipe and deposited along the railroad track. This attachment will not interfere whatever with the workings of the locomotive, but allow a perfect draft and free exhaust.

THE editorial pages of Home and Country, New York, for June are extremely piquant. They strike right home and call a spade a spade. This is particularly the case in dealing with the region of reform hypocrisy now rampant in New York, Brooklyn, and elsewhere. The plain, common people, who seem to amount to nothing in the eyes of Mugwump spoils hunters, ought to read with pleasure the terrific arraignment of the "champagne-guzzling oligarchy." There are times in the history of men and of nations—and they are now at hand—when plain words are needed. Home and Country is published at 149-153 Leonard Street, New York. The subscription price is $1.50 a year.

SINFUL HABITS IN YOUTH

LATER EXCESSES IN MANHOOD

MAKE NERVOUS, DISEASED MEN

THE RESULT of ignorance and folly in youth, overexertion of mind and body indulged by lust and exposure are constantly wrecking the lives and future happiness of thousands of promising young men. EDWARD T. TUTEN.

Local Department.

—One week of July has gone into the great past.

—Sunday school picnics do not seem as numerous this season as last for some reason or other.

—"English and American Manners" are tersely and graphically contrasted in THE SOCIAL ECONOMIST for July.

—John Anderson and two others were out fishing Friday and succeeded in landing about twenty five specimens.

—The soldier boys of Company B are getting down to solid drill work now preparing for the coming encampment the first week in August.

—On Sunday the Hebrew population of Bellefonte held a delightful outing on the mountain above Centre Hall. They spent a very pleasant day, —Wednesday Pawnee Bill and his band of Western cow boys, Indians, etc., will hold forth in Bellefonte. The exhibition is said to be first-class.

—The tennis courts on the North ward school house grounds are proving a place of great attraction and recreation for all lovers of that favorite pastime.

—The Mayor of Williamsport has sent invitations to the mayors and burgesses of all the surrounding towns and boroughs to go to Williamsport and see them celebrating their centennial.

—We acknowledge receipt of the 1895 catalogue of the Central State Normal School at Lock Haven. It is a handsomely printed book and speaks well for the prosperity of that most worthy institution.

—An exchange says that if all subscribers who are in arrears would pay up, the editors of this country could pay off the national debt and have enough to take their families to the seaside resorts this summer.

—Chas. P. Hewes, Esq., and family left on Thursday for a trip to Erie, Pa., to visit friends at Mrs. Hewes' former home. The family expect to be away for some time. Mr. Hewes will be gone about two weeks.

—S. I. Fries, the hardware and furniture dealer of Altoona, failed on Monday. Mr. Fries was also interested in the Mountaindale Coal and Coke company of Glasgow, Cambria county. The liabilities of the two concerns are said to be $100,000. The assets are a secret.

—There will be a "Shingle Social" at the Y. M. C. A. Thursday evening, July 11th. Refreshments, consisting of ice cream, cake, coffee and cocoa, will be furnished. Admission, including refreshments only one dime. Plenty of music and a good social time may be expected.

—The new bridge on Lamb street across Spring creek is at last completed and the improvement, late though it is, is all that can be desired. A new bridge at that place was a necessity, and now there has been one erected that will stand years of wear; and so high that floods will do it no damage.

—A Bellefonte police officer stated to the writer on Saturday that as a general thing the men in Bellefonte who drank the most liquor were the men who always had lots of work to do. He also said that there were more drunks in Bellefonte on Friday than there have been in one day for many months.

—The days have begun to shorten, although the decrease cannot yet be noticed. Last Friday was the longest day in the year, being fourteen hours and fifty-nine minutes long just one minute from an fifteen hour day. Saturday and Sunday were the same length, but to-day will be a few minutes shorter. A week hence the daylight will be ten minutes less.

—Dr. C. M. Parrish has every reason to well remember Wednesday night's storm. The roof of the Pruner building being torn off in places the water went through and poured down on the Doctor and his stock of drugs in a perfect Niagara. The Doctor and George Bayard have both been hard at work ever since endeavoring to get things dried up a little, but there is still considerable dampness thereabouts.

—We have received a copy of the centennial edition of the Williamsport Gazette and Bulletin and must say it is a model of its kind. Thirty-two handsomely printed pages devoted entirely to Williamsport interests and industries, the publishers displayed considerable enterprise in its get up. The whole is handsomely illustrated with well printed half-tone engravings. May it have as great success in the future as in the past.

—Fourth of July accidents in Bellefonte were not very numerous and none fatal, but one or two severe. Herbert Schaffer received a blow on the leg from an exploded cannon cracker which will leave him lame for some time. John Q. Miles was also injured in the same way. Two or three boys were seen with contusions and burns on their faces and hands, but a little arnica and sticking plaster will fix everybody up all right in a week or so.

—And now there are three Miss Clevelands in the Presidential household.

—Wild raspberries are of an exceptionally fine quality and good flavor this season.

—William Stuart, of Axe Mann, has finished cutting grain. He had about twenty acres out.

—From various parts of the State come reports of the destructiveness of Wednesday night's storm.

—At last Niagara Falls has been harnessed and the number of horse power it will furnish is almost incalculable.

—Judges and inspectors of election will hereafter receive $3.60 per day with out regard to time, and clerks will receive $3.

—What a good rain that was on Monday evening. Frequent showers of that kind will work wonders with the corn and potatoe crops.

—The remains of Pierce Barner, who was killed at Mt. Wolf, York county on Thursday last, were brought to Zion, this county and interred on Sunday.

—Frank Willing Leach is the kind of a man willing to sacrifice a $6,000 a year position to stand in with his friends. Such kind of men are almost as scarce as hen teeth.

—A girl baby born recently in Kokomo, Ind., is the fourteenth daughter of a fourteenth daughter of a fourteenth daughter, a record which is thought to be unprecedented.

—Landlord Harry Yeager, of the Brant House, frequently serves turtle soup to his patrons. Recently he received two large sea turtles, one weighing 100 and the other near 200 pounds.

—Although there is still a large number of cases of typhoid fever at Coleville, there have been no deaths recently and there are no sufferers in a very critical condition at the present time.

—It is said that John Wanamaker has increased his life insurance to the remarkable aggregate of $2,000,000, making the most heavily insured man in America, and possibly in the world.

—A novel plan of getting rid of rats is to tie bells to the tails of several of them and then allow them freedom. It is said that all the rats about the premises will leave at once for new quarters.

—Mr. Sands is repairing the room occupied by the jewelry store of Richards Sons.; and as the whole front was out Monday night, the boys took turns in watching—a rather tiresome job.

—Centre county has a number of applicants for the Cadet appointment to West Point. There are also three applicants from Clearfield county and three from Elk, but the appointment will likely come to Centre.

—Every citizen should manifest a vital interest in the growth of his town. Its prosperity means his prosperity. When ever a town and the surrounding country are permitted to go to seed business stagnation is the sure result.

—A few nights ago a black mink got into the chicken coop of farmer Robert Musser, up Buffalo Run valley and killed eighty young chickens. This is getting rid of poultry quicker than even a large gathering of Methodist preachers could do it.

—This is the season when the goose is regularly plucked and the gooseberry bush flourisheth like a green bay tree. Gooseberry stories have not been very plenty yet this season but it is a little early and as the crop promises fine there is abundant time.

—There seems to be considerable of a rivalry between all the unmarried editors in Bellefonte—and Heaven knows they are all old enough to get married—as to which one they can marry off the quickest. Just why this is thus we cannot tell, it is to get some one out of the road to give the other fellows a chance.

—The Lutheran social at the home of Lunger Wian, on the Beaver farm, Thursday evening, proved a very pleasant social event as well as a successful affair in every particular. There was abundant refreshments and the amusement feature was enlivened with the presence of a good orchestra. These socials are always very largely attended.

—Paul Gearhart, son of Dr. Gearhart, pastor of the Reformed congregation, registered on Monday as a student at law in the office of Orvis, Bower & Orvis. Mr. Gearhart was a member of the graduating class of Franklin & Marshall college this year and is a young man of ability which along with industry will surely make success attainable in the legal profession.

—Says the Hornet: Prof. J. P. Hughes, of Bellefonte, says whilst he was huckleberrying in the Allegheny mountains he shot at the head of a rattlesnake and missed it, the bullet going into the earth leaving a hole which the snake took advantage of and followed the ball. Prof. Hughes then shot into the hole killing the snake.

—On Friday evening Homer Crissman purchased a 20-pound ham and took it to the railroad office until he was ready to go home. Some of his friends who were in at the time too the ham and sent it by messenger down to Homer's house. Thus they expected to have the joke on him, but when Homer came up town in the evening and reported that the meat had been taken to Harry Crissmans and that he would expect pay for the same, the joke was on the other fellows, especially as the ham had been delivered to Homers.

Juniata Valley Campmeeting.

The twenty-fourth annual gathering of the Juniata Valley campmeeting association will be held at Newton Hamilton, August 13 to 23rd.

The religious exercises will be in charge of Rev. J. B. Polsgrove, Presiding Elder of the Juniata District, who will be sustained by efficient ministerial service.

Prof J. C. Conn will conduct the singing.

Rev. R. H. Gilbert, of Tyrone, Pa., wil have charge of the Children's meetings, and Rev. J. H. Mortimer, of Mifflintown, Pa., of the Young People's services.

At its last meeting the Association adopted the following resolutions:

RESOLVED 1. That the gates of the Juniata Valley Camp-meeting Association be closed on the Sabbath of their camp-meeting, and that none will be admitted on that day, except those who have tickets, which tickets will be placed in the hands of the pastors of McVeytown, Newton Hamilton, Mount Union, Shirleysburg and Mapleton, with the understanding that tickets will only be given to persons who come to hear the preaching of the Gospel. On Sabbath forenoon, up to the hour of public worship, or preaching, a pastor will be at or near the gates to give tickets to those who come to hear the word of God preached who may not have secured tickets from the pastors.

RESOLVED 2. That in no case will tickets be given to persons coming on special trains.

That Tennis Association.

The Tennis Association recently organized with J. R. Hughes as president and Maurice Jackson as secretary and treasurer, now numbers about fifty-five members. The young ladies of the town are regarded as associate members and are cordially invited to play on the courts when they feel inclined to do so.

The executive committee appointed by the president consists of Fred Jackson, chairman; Harry Keller, Scott Harris, Will Kelley and James Harris. The courts are being put in first-class shape and soon will be as good as could be desired. Great interest is being enlisted in this delightful sport as may be demonstrated by the fact that all the courts are occupied day and evening. The Association has provided benches for spectators and it is quite likely that the School Board and the Ladies of the Village Improvement Committee will act together and place on the upper terraces comfortable Park settees. There is amusement ahead for all interested.

Keep at it Regular.

A man who inserts a small advertisement once or twice a year and then looks for a rush in business for the next twelve months is like the fellow who takes a bath on New Year's day, and expects perfect health during the rest of the year. Regularity and continuity are essential elements in both, and an ad unless inserted to make known something of special importance will not pay unless kept constantly before the public. Names of business men and the location of their stores are soon forgotten when the ads. are taken from the columns of the local newspaper and this the wide awake merchant never falls to remember. Doing business upon the theory that everyone knows him, knows what he sells and where his store is has been rejected by every up-to-date seller of goods in the land.

Found a Pocketbook.

While in Williamsport last week Charles Shearer, of this place, found a pocketbook containing over three hundred dollars. A check and some other papers enclosed gave the name of the supposed owner and Mr. Shearer wrote him asking a description of the property. His reply was very satisfactory and on Monday the pocketbook was forwarded by express, Mr. Shearer receiving as a reward for his honesty the sum of fifteen dollars. Such a fat pocketbook in the hands of many men would have never been returned to the rightful possessor but Mr. Shearer is not of that class. It is needless to say the owner was rejoiced to recover his property.

A Little Advice.

When you call at a newspaper office don't take the editor's chair, unless you are invited to do so. If you find the editor busy don't stay any longer than your business requires. If you have no business with him leave at once, if he politely tells you "not to be in a hurry," don't take him at his word. He doesn't mean what he says, and is very likely gnashing his teeth at being interrupted, and longing to take you by the cuff of the neck and slack of the breeches and throw you out. Don't read the galley proofs. There is nothing on earth that makes an editor madder than to have some ill-mannered visitor pick up his proofs and read them. If an editor should murder a man for reading his galley proofs and the case could be tried before a jury composed of editors, they would render a verdict of "justifiable homicide" without leaving the jury box. A galley proof is intended for the editor's private eye alone. Perhaps there may be something in it that he will kill on sight, and he doesn't want the world to know that it ever lived An editor feels about his galley proofs much the same as a woman feels about her cooking. She doesn't care who sees and tastes her victuals after they are duly prepared and nicely dished and on the table, but she doesn't want outsiders running into her kitchen messing around and offering suggestions and commenting on her work while she is getting the meal ready. When the editor get his literary meal ready and nicely dished up in his paper you can taste it, and if you don't like it you can let it alone. Don't talk to his typesetters while they are working. They will make enough mistakes without any assistances from you. Don't read the copy. That is sacred to the eye of the typesetter alone, and may never be published. Beside, you may recognize "Voz Populi's" handwriting. On the whole, it will be a good plan for you to keep entirely away from the type cases. Don't go near the job presses when they are running. You have no business to know who is getting work done in the office or what sort of a job is being printed. There are a whole lot more things that we could tell you not to do in a printng office, but if you will ponder this carefully you will discover that a busy printing office is a good place for a loafer to stay away from.—Philipsburg Ledger.

China's Dowager Empress.

It may not be known generally that the dowager empress of China has had a very romantic history. She was the child of poor parents in the suburbs of Canton, and remarkable for her beauty. At a time when her parents did not know whence their daily bread was to come, she suggested that they sell her as a slave. This course was followed, and she became the property of a famous general. He was so enchanted with her beauty that he adopted her. When the general next went to Pekin, so says a correspondent, the general offered his beautiful daughter to the emperor, and thereby won great favor. The young girl so charmed his majesty by her looks and intelligence that he soon made her his wife. When the emperor died the former slave became Regent of the Empire, and administered the national affairs better than almost any of her predecessors. She is justly considered one os the great women of her time.

Remedy for Cut Worms.

A correspondent to the Wellsboro Gazette writes Root-eating cut worms are now having their innings in many gardens and cultivated fields, especially those manured in the fall or spring with partially rotted barn litter. Your correspondent dug out of less than a square rod of garden several quarts of these ground slugs in some instances finding over a dozen in a group. The dry, hot weather has been especially favorable to their propagation. The remedies suggested are: Strew tobacco dust about the plants; lime water; hellebore; or one-half pint of fire tree oil to five gallons of rain water or wash water. Work whatever remedy you use into the soil. A solution of paris green and water may be used with care. Stir the soil often and pull the worms out. If a choice plant is looking off, suspect agrostis and investigate the soil about its roots with a large iron spoon or garden trowel.

Just What's Needed.

Exclaims thousands of people who have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla at this season of the year, and noted the success of the medicine in giving them relief from that tired feeling, waning appetite and state of extreme exhaustion after the close confinement of a long winter season, the busy time attendant upon a large and pressing buisness during the spring months and with vacation time yet some weeks distant. It is then that the building-up powers of Hood's Sarsaparilla are fully appreciated. It seems perfectly adapted to overcome that prostration caused by change of season, climate or life, and while it tones and sustains the system, it purifies and vitalizes the blood. 7-11-1t

An Enraged Buffalo.

The buffalo in Pawnee Bill's circus, which exhibited at Shenandoah, became wild at the sight of Black Standing Hawk, an Apache, attired in red, white and blue, and, as the Indian was approaching the buffalo with the intention of mounting him, the enraged beast rushed upon the Indian and trampled and gored him in a frightful manner. The large audience became panic stricken, during which Pawnee Bill and his assistants lassoed the enraged bison. The buffalo was finally killed. The Indian will not recover. A number of cowboys were injured while aiding in lassoing the buffalo.

Don't you know that Hood's Sarsaparilla will overcome that tired feeling and give you renewed vigor and vitality?

THEY ALL USE IT.

Residents of Chautauqua Co. use Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy.

FREWSBURGH, CHAUTAUQUA CO., N.Y.—The people of this village have great reason to fell grateful to Dr. David Kennedy, the discoverer of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. Mrs. R. C. Dingley, of this place, in speaking of Favorite Remedy recently, said: "I consider it my duty to advise sick people to use Favorite Remedy. In one case particularly, that of a young married woman who was suffering from the troubles many of our sex are afflicted with. For weeks she has been free from those excruciating pains that almost kill women and Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy has about cured her. S. S. Whitman was so sick from a combination of diseases that he thought he could live but little longer, but Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy has done so much for him that he has worked on his farm all summer. In fact, he has not been so well in ten years. There are scores of people here who have been cured by its use." Favorite Remedy restores the disordered liver to a healthy condition, corrects constipation, and is a certain cure for the diseases and sicknesses of women. It cures scrofula, salt rheum and erysipelas. For nervousness, loss of sleep or that worn out feeling it has no equal. In cases of rheumatism, dyspepsia, gravel, Bright's disease, diabetes and bladder troubles, it has cured where all else failed. 7-11-1t

Foster's Weather Predictions.

My last bulletin gave forecasts of the storm wave to cross the continent from July 6 to July 10th and 12th to 16th. The next weather disturbance will reach the Pacific coast about July 17, cross the west of Rockies country by close of 10th, the great central valleys 19th to 21st and eastern states 22d. General rains will not occur with this disturbance and heavy rains will fall only in a few places of small extent. The rain period of the month will have passed before the dates of this storm wave and it will come in the drought period of the month. I do not mean to say that a general drought will occur, only that the last half of July, for the United States, will produce less rain than the first half of the month. The drought sections for July were noted in my last bulletin, which I regard as the most important weather bulletin I have issued. This storm wave will also bring some of the hottest days of the month, very hot in the Atlantic states. The warm wave will cross the west of Rockies country about 17th, great central valleys 19th and eastern states 21st. Cool wave will cross the west of Rockies country about 20th, great central valleys 22d and eastern states 24th.

Approved by the Governor.

Among the bills approved by Gov. Hastings on Saturday was the State College appropriation. Speaking of its passage by the Legislature the West Chester Local NEWS says: The Pennsylvania State College, a most creditable institution, has also been well cared for in the House, where the bill appropriating $212,000 passed by vote of 138 to 0. This was a very agreeable surprise to the advocates of the college—as there was considerable talk among some members about opposing it. However, when Representatives Curtin and Womelsdorf took off their coats and made the strong fight they did the opposition soon took a back seat.

The passing of this bill is due largely to the untiring efforts of Mr. Curtin, who left no stone unturned in securing its final passage. The bill at one time was almost lost when Mr. Curtin appeared on the floor and securing a stay of several minutes made a canvass of the different members and when the bill next came up, it went through without a dissenting vote.

WHAT IS AN Electrotherm

It is a flexible sheet or pad composed of asbestos with embedded wire, which when attached to the socket of an electric lamp, offers sufficient resistance to the current to produce a Constant and Uniform degree of heat.

It has many advantages over the hot water bottle where there is an electric current in the house. Its heat is uniform, by its regulating switch three different degrees of heat can be used—it does not leak—it can be used as a poultice by applying over wet flannel—useful for cold feet, Cramps Chilliness, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pneumonia, local pains and wherever the application of heat is desired.
